Blair Recall Petitions Over The Top

Jones Will Check Names Despite Precinct Changes

The Recall Blair Committee announced today it has about 2,600 signatures on petitions to force an election on recall of County Supervisor J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley—more than enough if all are certified.

Simultaneously County Clerk George S. Jones announced his office was about two-thirds of the way through a process of assigning of new precinct numbers in Blair's district. His announcement aroused fears in the Recall Blair group that some signatures might be ruled invalid for not having the correct new precinct numbers after them.

Jones assured Steve Kaufman, a member of the recall committee, Mrs. Franklin J. McClain, wife of the head of the recall group, and Ann S. Heyer, a recall committee assistant:

"You just bring in the signatures with addresses, and we'll put the correct precinct numbers after them. I think I am the supreme authority here on what is right in such things."

However, Kaufman expressed fears over whether someone might throw the matter into court and sought an immediate conference with County Counsel J. Warren McGuire.

"I appreciate Jones' good faith in the matter," Kaufman said. "But someone else may raise an objection."

Jones said his office had begun reprecincting the district two weeks ago and would finish in about a week.

"That was just the time our recall drive began," Kaufman told a reporter. "I think it is odd."

Jones had said the reprecincting was done at this time "because we knew this thing was coming up and we wanted to get things up to date."

McClain said his committee would continue seeking signatures this week and turn them in at the end of the week.

"We expect we'll have about 2,750 by then," he said.

A total of 2,473 signatures, or 20 per cent of the number who voted in Blair's district last November, are required to force a recall election.

McClain said regarding the reprecincting, "I have every confidence in Mr. Jones' public statement that he will accept the signatures."

Wheat Plan In Case Of Attack Told

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman today announced a "new frontier" program designed to deploy some of the nation's multi-million bushel wheat crop to big cities regarded as prime targets for nuclear bomb attack by the Russians. Freeman said the plan is ready to be launched.

Freeman announced the new program in a speech prepared for delivery at the 43rd annual convention of the Missouri Farmers Assn. He flew from Washington to this city in the heart of America's farm belt to spell out details of the plan.

Freeman calls it "the strategic reserve program." He said the plan is to relocate surplus supplies of wheat in 191 metropolitan areas of 100,000 persons and more "which are assumed by civil defense authorities to be target areas.

The national defense food policy will be embodied in several defense proposals President John Kennedy plans to send to Congress soon, possibly this week. The wheat relocation plan would be subject to congressional approval.

(In Washington, a department official said the wheat relocation would be geared to the normal export program. In this way, the wheat moved to possible target areas would be turned over in the export program and new supplies would keep rolling in. The entire wheat supply in each target area possibly would be turned over every 4 to 5 years.)

Supervisors Vote Salary Adjustments

Four-Point Plan By-Passes Action On Inequities

A sweeping four-point program of county salary adjustments was unanimously adopted by the Marin County Board of Supervisors at noon today.

Though it vastly expanded the "longevity increase" proposal to include all employees frozen on Step 5 for two years, rather than five years as originally proposed, it ignored the administrator's effort to correct salary inequities. But it added three other points.

Cost will be $61,650 and affect 168 employees during nine months of the present fiscal year. The original program including longevity raises and salary inequity corrections would have cost $73,715 for a full year.

Items adopted were:

1. Uniform allwoance of $50 a quarter for 37 of the 40 employees of the county fire department at cost of $7,400.

2. Similar uniform allowance for 51 of 74 employees of the sheriff's department; cost $10,200.

3. Change of public works maintenance men from three-step to five-step category; cost $3,290.

4. Longevity increase for all employees in Step 5 for two years, affecting 168 employees and costing $61,650.

The board ignored strong recommendations by Administrator Alan Bruce and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell for correction of out-of-line salaries. They wrote:

"We believe that both short run and long run costs would be increased if the inequity requests are completely overlooked in relation to employee morale, turnover and cost of traing new employees.

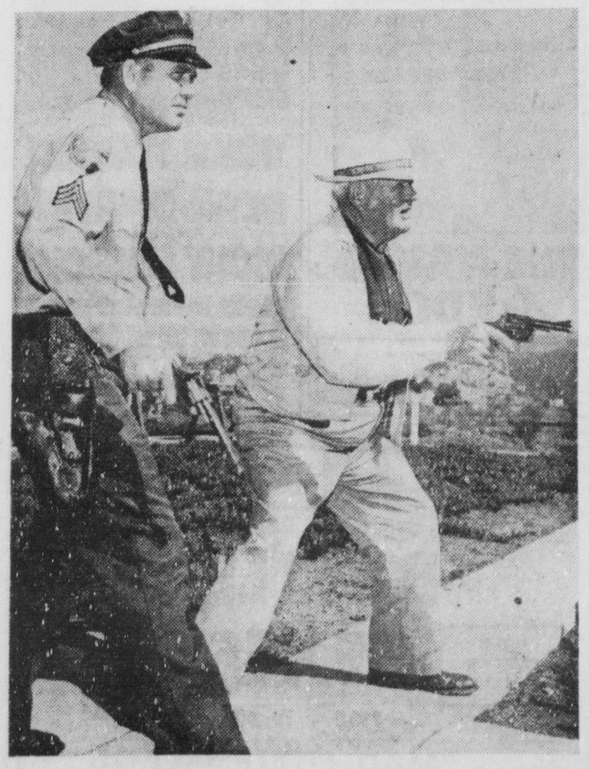

"We would remind you that use of the inequity approach this year has removed pressure on your board for any type of across-the-board action which would have cost upwards of $200,000."

But when Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, health director who had been present to discuss the budget of her department, spoke up to ask: "Will any consideration be given at all to straightening out inequities?" Supervisor George Ludy, proposer of the four-point resolution, replied "No."

Chairman Willaim D. Fusselman said "we want to avoid

Rangemaster H. O. Peters Dies

Harvey Otis Peters, 69, rangemaster and instructor at the Marin County Pistol Range since 1957, collapsed of a heart attack at the range yesterday. He was dead on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital at 10:05 a.m.

At the time he was stricken, Peters was teaching a marksmanship class of sheriff's reserve officers. United Ambulance attendants, called by a deputy at the range, administered oxygen in an effort to revive him en route to the hospital.

A native of Roundsville, Md., where he was born in 1892, Peters was a special agent for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad from 1924 until his retirement on Sept. 30, 1957. At that time he became rangemaster and instructor in rifle, pistol, shotgun and submachinegun marksmanship at the county range. He also served as referee, program director and distributor of prizes at monthly matches between military and police forces.

It was his proud boast that the range had been free of accidents during the time he was in charge. "If anybody shoots himself here, I'm going to shoot him," he once joked to a friend.

Firearms had been a part of Peter's life since his boyhood,

E. Berlin Reds Hurl Tear Gas At Crowd Protesting Closure

AT BRANDENBURG GATE — West Berliners crowd around the Brandenburg Gate, one of the East-West entry points in the city. The crowd, estimated at 5,000, finally grew angry, shouted insults at Red guards on the other side and received tear gas in return. (AP Wirephoto)

Move By Communists Brings Demonstration

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Communist police today hurled tear gas into crowds of jeering West Berliners protesting the closing of the border between East and West Berlin.

The Reds closed the Brandenburg Gate, main crossing point between East and West Berlin, and ordered their soldiers to break up all anti-Communist demonstrations along the border—a move that raised the possibility of armed clashes.

The Red interior ministry warned all West Berliners not to get closer than 100 yards of the border.

The order came as the Reds suddenly closed the Brandenburg Gate, Berlin's main crossing point between East and West, in the wake of the violent scenes that almost brought open clashes between Communist troops and police and angry West Berliners.

POINTS REDUCED

The Red clampdown reduced from 80 to 12 the number of crossing points between Red-run East Berlin and free West Berlin and barred more than 50,000 East Berliners from going to work in West Berlin. The Communuists also cut communications between East and West Germany.

Despite the border closing ordered by the Reds yesterday, and enforced by soldiers and police backed by tanks and machine guns, refugees continued to make their way from the Communist-held East into West Berlin. Of the refugees registered today, 800 fled between dawn and dusk yesterday, according to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt. He said they escaped by "secret means." Some East Berliners, using identity cards borrowed from West Berlin friends and relatives, passed all but close checks at the border and made it to the West. Others were smuggled out in the trunks of western automobiles.

SHOUT INSULTS

Irate West Berliners shouted insults at Red police and troops at the Brandenburg Gate, and taunted them until the police hurled at least four tear gas grenades. A capricious wind blew the gas back into the Communists' faces.

The East Germans wheeled three awkward-looking, but effective, water cannons into position at the Brandenburg Gate. They flanked them with five armored carriers mounted with machcine guns, and marched additional "alert police" with machine guns into position along the sector border.

Eight tanks were in position near the Friedrichstrasse sta-

Hijacked U.S. Airliner Will Be Returned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tensions between the United States and Cuba were expected to be eased a bit tomorrow by the return of a hijacked American airliner from Havana and a pirated Cuban naval vessel brought to this country.

The State Department announced Saturday that the Cuban government has agreed to return an Eastern Airlines Electra which was diverted to Havana at gunpoint shortly after it took off from Miami, Fla., last July 24.

At the same time, department press officer Joseph Reap said the Cuban patrol boat, SV-8, would be returned to the Cubans. The patrol boat was taken to Key West, Fla., on July 29 by anti-Castro defectors.

Reap emphasized that the return of the 3.2 million-dollar plane to the United States and the $50,000 vessel to Cuba were in no way a swap between the two governments.

He said even without the return of the Electra, the patrol boat would have been sent back to Cuba under international rule of law because Cuba claimed sovereign immunity over its property.

Eastern Air Lines personnel will go to Havana to reclaim the Electra tomorrow while Cuban personnel come to Key West to take over the patrol boat.

There have been demands in Congress that the United States use force if necessary to reclaim the hijacked Electra from the government of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Castro released the passengers and crew of the hijacked plane shortly after it landed in Havana. But the Cubans had refused to return the plane on grounds that the United States had not returned Cuban planes and ships taken to this country by anti-Castro defectors.

Newsman Takes 90-Minute Ride Through Troop-Guarded City

(Editor's Note: UPI staff correspondent John A. Callcott crossed into East Berlin today and drove about the troop-guarded streets of the Communist sector. Here is his eyewitness report.)

BERLIN (UPI)—I felt the fear in East Berlin.

It is an eerie city under seige.

I saw Communist troops, armed police and tanks. But I saw only a few civilians and they scurried about furtively like frightened animals.

It seemed like the scene from one of those movies about the last days of the world.

On a 90-minute taxi ride through East Berlin, I saw a police state at work.

My West Berlin cab driver had hedged when I told him to cross the border.

The cab rolled up to the Brandenburg Gate, one of the gaudiest doors in the Iron Curtain.

"Where are you going?" snapped an East German border guard.

The cab driver opened his mouth to answer when he heard something go "whoosh . . . swiss . . . whoosh . . . " A few feet away East German police had turned a water cannon on western news photographers.

"Where are you going?" asked the Red Guard again.

My cabbie wanted no trouble. He knew I was a newsman. "To the Trade Ministry," he lied. The Red Guard looked into the cab's trunk and let us pass.

About 2,000 "people's police" and "workers militiamen" were posted on the Communist side of the Brandenburg Gate. Five Russian T-34 tanks, manned by East Germans, sat there like giant toads.

We rode into Unter Den Linden. Militia swarmed over the sidewalks and roadways.

Once Unter Den Linden rivaled Paris' Champs Elysees, the Mall in London and New York's Fifth Avenue. Then came Hitler and then the Red Army. The militiamen blocked our path.

"Can't you move aside?" my cabbie asked one formation.

"You shut your mouth," snarled a militiaman.

We moved around a corner into Leipzigerstrasse. We found no civilians. We ran into 15 tanks and four armored troop carriers. The crews milled

Rusk Urges Creation Of Disarmament Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that while the Berlin crisis may make disarmament seem "a distant goal" it also points up the urgent need to push ahead in this field.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Rusk said wise policy demands that the nation "make strong, patient and sincere efforts" to promote disarmament even as it increases its military might to meet the new crisis.

Rusk urged passage of an administration proposal to create a U.S. disarmament agency.

"It is quite appropriate," he said, "to establish this new disarmament agency at a time when the tension which has arisen as a result of Soviet threats to our right of access to Berlin has resulted in our taking steps to preserve these rights. Indeed, the Berlin crisis brings into sharp focus the need for this agency and the urgency of this task."

While speaking of disarmament as a goal which may reasonably be sought, Rusk noted that "even now, a practical and reasonable treaty for the suspension of nuclear testing has been summarily rejected by the Soviet Union."

And he spoke in somber tones of "the lowering clouds" over Berlin.

Under questioning by Chairman William Fulbright (D-Ark.) Rusk said the disarmament agency could represent "a task force" composed of appropriate experts from all interested agencies, including the State and Defense Departments and the Atomic Energy Commission.

A separate disarmament agency is needed, he said, because its functions would go beyond those now normally within the province of the State Department and would include scientific research in which the department has no experience.

President, Aides Confer On Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy called in Secretary of State Dean Rusk today for a conference on the mounting crisis over Berlin — presumably to discuss counter measures the Western Powers may take against the Communist ban on the flight of refugees from Red rule into West Berlin.

In another development Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler arranged a meeting with the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany for midafternoon to discuss actions the West may take beyond the lodging of a formal protest with the Soviet commander in East Berlin.

Kennedy conferred for 50 minutes with his ambassador to Russia, Llewellyn Thompson, soon after returning this morning from a weekend at Hyannis Port, Mass.

Navy To Hold 26,800 On Duty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy announced today that 26,800 officers and men will be held on active duty for six to twelve months beyond their normal tours as part of the new U. S. preparedness buildup.

Authority for extensions of the tours was granted President Kennedy in a congressional resolution following his July 25 announcement of extensive plans in the face of the Berlin crisis.

A 'WONDERFUL' TIME

Sammy Davis Swims At Monaco Palace

MONTE CARLO (UPI)—American Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., spent a "wonderful, wonderful" afternoon yesterday with Prince Rainier and his wife, Princess Grace.

Davis, who was the star attraction at Princess Grace's annual Red Cross gala last Friday night, said the former Grace Kelly was unable to see him after his performance but wrote him later saying her husband would like to invite him for lunch.

"There were about 10 people there," Davis said, "and we all went for a swim in the palace pool. David Niven stopped by but there really wasn't much talk about movies.

"I had never met Princess Grace when she was Hollywood's Grace Kelly, so it was a wonderful, wonderful afternoon. They are a gay and charming couple."

Davis' two close friends, singers Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, had been expected to join him on the French Riviera summer playground, but they never showed up.

Other members of the much-ballyhooed Hollywood clan did appear, including actor Peter Lawford and his wife, Pat, sister of President John F. Kennedy.

But the holiday ended in tragedy yesterday for another member of the clan, actress Janet Leigh. Miss Leigh, wife of actor Tony Curtis, learned Saturday that her father was found dead with a suicide note near his body, according to police. She flew home yesterday with Martin's wife.

Davis flew to Rome yesterday after his afternoon with the Rainiers to discuss some business with Italian film producer Carlo Ponti.

Kenya Leader Is Released, Returns Home In Triumph

GATUNDU, Kenya (UPI) — Jomo Kenyatta, convicted as the moving spirit behind the Mau Mau terrorism, returned in triumph today form nine years of prison and exile and declared at a news conference:

"My political philosophy is love thy neighbor as thyself. The world is my neighbor."

Kenyatta, who could become first prime minister of Kenya, told the same news conference the cold war between East and West was "very dangerous for Africa — we must be neutralist."

Kenyatta and his party flew home to a new government-built house at Gatundu autside Nairobi from his exile retreat at Maralal. Three police planes landed them at Kahama Airport and a heavy police escort brought them the 15 miles to Gatundu, where thousands of chanting, dancing Africans awaited the chance to cheer the man they consider the father of African nationalism.

As the erect, gaunt Kenyatta, his seven-months-pregnant African second wife Ngina, and three daughters alighted, an Asian bookbinder rushed from the crowd and kissed Kenyatta's feet.

Kenyatta, in his mid-60s, appeared near tears. He entered the house followed by Kenya's chief minister Ronald Ngala and opposition leaders Tom Mboya, James Gichuru, Masinde Muliro, and Oginga Odinga.

Waiting for him was his English first wife Grace and his aged stepfather, nearing 90.

Mboya was overcome with emotion as Kenyatta embraced him and was unable to speak but Ngala said, "This is the greatest day of Africa. From here on we march to a new destiny."

Inside, Kenyatta, who has agreed to remain under police restriction for a few days, told newsmen "I don't feel bitter because I know my cause was just. When I was imprisoned I was serving my country."

"I plan to unify my people—the Africans and the citizens of Kenya he said. "I have been trying to get the two African parties to work together."

Kenyatta said he planned a speechmaking tour of Kenya when "de-restricted." He urged Kenyans to "keep calm and make no trouble— we must build a united Kenya.

He called a "United East Africa" a "grand idea" and said "I leave it to my people whether I will be president. I wish to serve them."

Kenyatta, as president of the bitterly anti-European Kenya African Union Political Party, was arrested when the Mau Mau terrorism broke out in 1952 to plunge Kenya into years of bloodshed and violence.

At his trial, Kenyatta emphatically denied any connection with the Mau Mau movement.

At the peak of Venice's power and prosperity in the 16th Century, some 10,000 gondolas glided along the canals. Gondolas now number around 500.

Japan Rejects Soviet Trade Pact Plan

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan flatly rejected today a Soviet proposal for a long-term trade agreement between the two countries. The proposal was put forth by visiting Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

The agreement would have been in exchange for Soviet oil, coal and iron ore which Mikoyan, in his role as Russia's "super salesman," offered Japan in his one hour and 30 minute meeting with international trade and industry minister Eisaku Sato.

Sato, however, turned thumbs down on the trade agreement proposal, saying Japan was not yet ready to conclude such a pact with Russia.

Mikoyan had stipulated that the trade agreement would run for 10 years or longer.

Sato also withheld any promises to buy Soviet oil which he said would have to be refined in Japan.

Mikoyan told Sato that should Japan agree to buy Soviet oil, the Soviet Union would extend its pipelines to the port city of Nahotska, on the Sea of Japan.

Mikoyan, fresh from a meeting with foreign minister Zentaro Kosaka, apparently won little if any promise from Sato for increased Soviet-Japan trade.

Earlier, during his meeting with Kosaka, the Soviet leader denounced the Japan-U.S. security treaty, terming it aggressive toward the Soviet Union.

Mikoyan's call on Sato was his second official call following his arrival here today. His arrival was marked by tension and threats of right-est violence which failed to materialize.

In his meeting with Kosaka, Mikoyan said Soviet-Japanese relations must be based on three principles—peace, amity and cooperation. Kosaka stipulated non-interference as a basis for relations between the two countries—which still have not signed a peace treaty for World War II.

Kosaka told Mikoyan that the two nations must respect each other's political and economic systems and then he could agree to principles outlined by Mikoyan.

Kosaka said they exchanged "frank opinions" on the treaty, but he did not go into details. He said the talks generally steered away from international subjects, such as the Berlin question, but did touch on disarmament.

He said Mikoyan complained that Japan's voice in the disarmament talks was too small.

Strike Vote To Be Asked

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Quick votes to strike in support of new contract demands will be asked of more than half a million United Aut Workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants across the country.

Current three-year contracts betwen the UAW and the Big Three auto makers have only 17 more days to run.

The UAW's International Executive Board authorized the taking of strike votes among Big Three workers, at a special strategy meeting yesterday.

But at the same time the board turned down a request for a similar vote among members employed by American Motors Corp., the only auto maker thus far to offer a new wage package.

Search For Killer

CARLSBAD, N.M. (UPI) — Authorities had only a few slim leads today in a search for the sex killer of two teen-age girls whose bodies were found in a ranch pasture 12 miles northwest of Carlsbad.

The girls were Mattie Restine, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Restine, and Patty Sue Pritz, 14, daughter of Mrs. Cullen Davidson.

Both had been shot in the head with small caliber bullets. The bodies were badly beaten. Mattie Retine's skull was nearly crushed from repeated heavy blows.

Peace justice Richard I. Floyd said a doctor found evidence Patty Sue had been raped, but whether the younger girl also was assaulted remained in doubt. The girls were last seen alive on Friday night.

8 Cezanne Masterpieces Stolen At Exhibition

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France (UPI) — A sensational art robbery here of Cezanne masterpieces has brought to $4,590,000 the estimated total haul in France's six major art thefts since the beginning of last year.

Police said thieves who broke into the Vendrome Pavillion exhibition hall and stole eight Paul Cezanne paintings worth an estimated 1.6 million dollars apparently abandoned another one because of its size. The theft was discovered yesterday.

The burglars took Cezanne's "The Artist's Father Reading a Newspaper" down from one wall but left it behind, police said. But they got away with six paintings from the second floor and two displayed on the third floor, including one of the impressionist master's most famous canvasses— "The Card Players."

Harried police officials theorized that the art thieves climbed through a second floor window while the guard downstairs, armed with a submachine gun, was being changed.

If correct, the theory meant that the robbers had a five-hour head start by the time the theft was discovered yesterday morning.

They managed to sneak the eight paintings out of the exhibition hall while a woman caretaker and her husband were sound asleep in their apartment on the third floor, detectives said.

Sources said police believed the burglars drove a small truck up to the stone wall that surrounds the 17th century building, then climbed on top and made their way along the wall to the hall itself.

The seven other paintings stolen yesterday also are considered collectors' items. They include "The Skulls," "Reflections in the Water," "The Sitting Peasant," "The Leg of Mutton," "Aix Countryside with Caesar's Tower," "Stil Life with Apples and Teapot" and "Sister Marie," a portrait of Marie Cezanne.

Lawyer Ends Case For Eichmann

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann's lawyer ended his case today by claiming that Israel has no right to try the former Nazi for the mass murder of six million Jews.

West German defense counsel Dr. Robert Servatius asked the three Israeli judges to disregard the 15 counts against Eichmann and to "cease all handling of the indictment."

Servatius asked the court to apply the Argentine staute of limitations, whichc in Eichmann's case expired in 1955.

"Only Argentina could have tried him for the crimes attributed to him here," Servatius said.

SPIRITED AWAY

It was in Argentina last year that Israeli secret agents found Eichmann and spirited him to Israel for trial.

After Servatius' final summation, the court adjourned until some time in November.

At the some time, Servatius made a stirring plea for the judges to look on Eichmann as a helpless servant of the state with a duty only to obey his superiors' orders.

"The Bible said 'thou shalt not kill' but the statesman Moses himself ordered killing," Servatius said.

Citing contradictions between civil law and practices sanctioned in wartime, Servatius said the "state requires blind obedience."

"The state demands confidence in its leadership," he said.

"If a policy fails, it is a crime in the view of the victors."

'SENSELESS SACRIFICE'

As for the accused, he said, "it would have been a senseless sacrifice for Eichmann to have refused to obey orders."

"The crime is not that of an individual but of the state which carries it out," he said.

Looking up from his notes at the three tjudges, Servatius called for a "sabbatical year" of peace in the hatred for the crimes of political craftsmen.

"I am not appealing for forgiveness of crimes or even trying to deprive the Jewish people of the rgiht to remember," he said. "I am only calling for a truce."

Pope John Names State Secretary

CARDINAL CICOGNANI
Named by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani, for 25 years the apostolic delegate to the United States, to be his new secretary of state.

Cardinal Cicognani succeeds Domenico Cardinal Tardini, who died July 30.

The new Vatican secretary of state is 78, born Feb. 24, 1883, at Brisighella, near Faenza, in northern Italy.

He served for 23 years in the Vatican Curia before going to Washington for his long assignment there.

Cardinal Cicognani also was named president of the Cardinal Commission for Government of the state of Vatican City, in effect the mayor of the 108-acre city state. In this office he succeeds Nicola Cardinal Canali, who died Aug. 3.

Pope John also named Cardinal Cicognani president of the Cardinal Commission for Administration of the Goods of the Holy See.

Pope John also announced these other appointments to high Vatican office:

Arcadio Cardinal Larraona, Spanish member of the Vatican Curia, to be archpriest of St. Peter's Basilica, an office that was held by Cardinal Tardini.

Gustavo Cardinal Testa, Italian member of the Vatican Curia, to be propresident of the Cardinal Commission for Administration of the Goods of the Holy See.

Alberto Cardinal di Jorio, Italian member of the Vatican Curia, to be propresident of the Cardinal Commission for the Government of Vatican City.

Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, the French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, to be grand master of the Holy Sepulcher.

Archbishop Gabriel Coussa to be prosecretary of the Vatican's Congregation for the Eastern Church. Cardinal Cicognani, who was secretary of the congregation is giving up that post.

Plucky Boy, 7, Survives Crash

SALIDA, Colo. (AP) — Tears glistened in Kevin McKnight's eyes, but the boy managed a smile.

He even cried a little when searchers found him, strapped in the wreckage of an airplane near the top of a mountain. His right leg and right shoulder were broken.

"But has was plucky as a bantam rooster," Sheriff Harold Thonoff said. "Boy, he has guts."

Kevin, 6, of Tulsa, Okla., was the only sign of life in the small twin-engine plane which had carried three persons, including his father and older brother, to their deaths.

Heading for a vacation at a dude ranch in southwestern Colorado, they flew into heavy clouds before crashing at an altitude of 10,900 feet.

For 27 hours — until searchers found him late yesterday — Kevin stayed awake, alone and in pain.

His father, Tulsa patent attorney Charles M. McKnight, 35, was dead at the controls. Mary Alice Wallace, 38, a family friend, was dead beside him.

The body of Michael McKnight, 12, was held firmly in the seat next to Kevin. On the other side Guy, 9, another brother was unconscious with jaw and skull fractures.

The searchers were directed to the scene by a spotting airplane. It took nearly two hours to move Kevin and Guy and the dead to a hospital in Salida 14 miles away.

Almost intact, the plane's cabin roof sheltered Kevin from the rainy, cold night.

"He said he was hungry," Sheriff Thonoff said. "He asked for pork and beans with lots of black pepper."

2 Big Planes Collide In Air, Land Safely

SACRAMENTO (AP) — For 20 tense minutes, two damaged jets—a bomber and a tanker—circled high above the Pacific after colliding in mid-air.

Their skippers talked by radio with Air Force brass and engineers from the company that made the planes, trying to decide whether to ditch them in the ocean 50 miles northwest of Eureka or attempt to land at Mather Air Force Base near here.

Finally, the decision was made and the planes were ordered to Mather. They landed successfully and none of the crewmen was injured.

PROBE ORDERED

The Air Force yesterday revealed these details of the collision, which occurred at 4:55 p.m. Saturday. Officials said a team of investigators would begin probing the crash today.

Col. Merrill N. Moore told how the planes tangled.

The KC-135 tanker had fueled the B-52 bomber when one of its crew members noticed peculiar black smudges on the B-52's left wing.

Lt. Col. Garland J. Smith of Sacramento moved his tanker close to the bomber to take a look. He had been asked to do this by Capt. Charles B. Layton of Sacramento, pilot of the B-52.

A gunner on the bomber, Moore said, saw the planes drawing close.

"He's going to ram us," the gunner said.

SECTION RIPPED

The crash ripped two-thirds of the stabilizer section of the tail assembly from the B-52 and tore away an engine from the four-engine KC-135.

While the planes cruised at 34,000 feet, radio consultations were held on their condition.

The decision was made to try the landing, Moore said, because "we thought it would be the safest thing to do."

The bomber landed at Mather without trouble. When the tanker hit the ground, two of the four front tires on the right wing blew out. Officials said this did not interfere with the landing.

Marin Citian Says $120 Cash Missing

Joseph Paul Belle, of C-12 Apt. 93, Marin City, complained to the sheriff's office Saturday night that $120 in cash was missing from the glove compartment of his 1951 two-door sedan when he got it back from a mechanic in Marin City.

Sheriff's deputies questioned the mechanic, who said the car was untended on two occasions after he worked on it.

Pastor Feted For 50th Year In Ministry

Rev. Charles L. Duncan, a former San Anselmo professor and pastor, was honored yesterday at a reception on his 50th anniversary as an ordained Presbyterian minister.

The reception was held in the patio of a hall named after him at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo, where he was pastor from 1913 to 1918.

After serving as a civilian chaplain in World War I, he was appointed a field representative of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, and served states of the board's western region until his retirement to Berkeley in 1944.

He also was a professor of Christian education at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo for several years in the 1930s.

In 1948, he and his wife, Mrs. Edith Duncan, moved to 3 Woodhaven Road in Ross, where they still reside.

Sales Promotion Show Not Lewd, Police Say

According to San Rafael police, a sales promotion staged yesterday at San Rafael Racquet Club Estates, featuring weight-lifting by strong men and baton-twirling by girls in scanty attire, was neither vulgar nor lewd.

According to Deputy City Atty. William O. Weissich, the show did not violate the municiple code governing advertising, carnivals, athletic contests or exhibitions.

According to Evelyn May Molander, however, who lives across the street at 2247 Fifth Avenue, the whole thing added up to a "carnival atmosphere" creating "noise, traffic and vulgarity."

Police conceded the loudspeakers were turned up a bit too high and requested a muscle man, identified only as "Mr. America," to turn the record player down.

John J. Farrar of 90 Scenic Avenue in San Rafael, developer of the subdivision, said he "had no idea his show would offend anyone." He has been "continually harrassed" by Mrs. Molander, he told officers, since start of the development.

Mrs. Molander asked police to inform Farrar that she was "contacting the president of an association formed to prevent development of the racquet club."

In giving moral approval to the show, police noted that "the same type of fare can be witnessed on TV."

TANKS LINE BERLIN BORDER — East German tanks are lined up at Warschauerbrucke, near the West Berlin border in East Berlin today. Crossing points between East and West Berlin were heavily guarded today after Communists prohibited East Germans from crossing in the West sectors. (AP Wirephoto) tion of the city's elevated railroad.

The Communists fired a warning shot at a West Berlin policeman near the border, but he was unharmed.

West Berliners pressed so hard against restraining ropes on the border that they broke. They screamed jibes like "swine" and "why don't you dig potatoes" at the Red people's police, called "vopos." West Berlin police shoved the crowd back and barred the area.

At one point, an agry vopo officer marched to the center of the street, drew himself to attention, and shouted to a UPI photographer and a reporter: "You are standing on the territory of the free city of Berlin. It is forbidden to take photographs of military subjects."

Then he yelled at a West Berlin policeman to order the UPI men back. The West Berliner grinned and refused.

Quentin Escaper Is Arraigned

David G. Wills, 35-year-old twice-convicted child molester, was arraigned before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin Superior Court today for breaking out of San Quentin Prison July 3, but because he had no counsel, his plea was delayed until Aug. 28.

Judge Sims named public defender Peter Allen Smith to represent Wills, who is serving two one year-to-life prison terms for conviction of child molesting in Los Angeles and Alameda Counties.

After vanishing from the prison textile mill, Wills was captured 14 days later in Glendora, Los Angeles County, in a stolen car.

B-B Pellet Damage Reported To Sheriff

Two Terra Linda residents complained to the sheriff's office yesterday that B-B pellets had been fired through their windows.

Mrs. Jerolyn Jacobsen of 731 Montecello Road said a copper shot tore a hole through her dining room plate glass window yesterday noon.

Dale Snell, of 415 Holly Drive, said that shortly before noon he discovered a hole evidently made by a B-B pellet in the large plate glass window of his living room.

The victims, Charles Fairlee, 50, Valera Fairlee, 48, and Rodney Fairlee, 20, the driver, were treated at Marin General Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol reported the Fairlee automobile collided with the rear of a car driven by Leonard Pockman of San Francisco, who said he was stopped behind about eight other cars when the accident occured, about 1 p.m.

RIDE

around tents beside their vehicles.

Wilhelmstrasse, the street where Hitler started and ended his world war, was sealed off. I stopped the cab when I spotted a strange sight—two civilians walking down the street.

They gave me a glance, looked at my West Berlin taxi, shook their heads and walked away quickly.

We drove to the East Berlin railroad station. Street cars and buses inched around with almost empty seats.

"Where is everyone?" my cabbie yelled. He didn't have to yell. I sat two feet from him. But I understood.

"Only yesterday the streets were 10 times fuller than now," the cabbie said. Building sites were abandoned. Stalinalle—East Berlin's so-called showplace—was almost deserted.

My cab glided back into West Berlin through the Friedrichstrasse crossing. A knot of West Berliners stood on the free side.

One of them shouted "Pfui" at a Communist guard. The Red guard replied with a vulgar gesture.

Airman Sprains Ankle In Wreck

A 20-year-old Hamilton Air Force Base airman suffered a sprained left ankle last evening on Mount Tamalpais when his motorcycle collided with a car on a sharp curve.

Consideration took only a matter of minutes when Mitchell brought in a report requested Friday by Ludy asking information as to how the four Points would work out.

Major differences from earlier recommendations were increase in the "longevity" category from an original 30 employees, at cost of under $10,000, and scuttling of the proposed correction of 51 categories deemed out of line, affecting 151 employees and costing $57,414.

Fusselman summed up that he thought the program as passed "will take care of the major problems."

Held in Marin County Jail today in lieu of $472.50 bail on charges of disturbing the peace, assault and battery was Donald Tindall, 36, of 775 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia.

His wife, Edith, 45, was treated for facial cuts and bruises at San Rafael General Hospital yesterday afternoon. She charged her six-foot-two-inch, 180-pound husband struck her. He told sheriff's deputies he was angered because she borrowed $1,000 and co-signed his name to the note.

Jailed late last night on a charge of disturbing the peace and freed in $105 bail early today was Leo Demetreos, 38, of 750 Del Gandado, Terra Linda. His wife, Betty, told sheriff officers he struck her and threatened to kill her. She made a citizen's arrest and deputies jailed him.

OBITUARIES

Rangemaster H. O. Peters Succumbs

when he was an ardent hunter. He joined the National Guard in Maryland when he was old enough to don a uniform, and followed his Guard tour with 12 years in the regular army, serving in the Philippines, Hawaii and many continental United States posts.

He retired from the Army in 1924 as a first sergeant and took a job as guard with the Northwestern Pacific Railroad the same year. Thirty-three years later he retired as chief special agent of the system.

From 1925 to 1929 he made his home in Sausalito. For the next 10 years he lived in Corte Madera, moving to the Travelers Inn in San Rafael in 1939 where he had resided since. His room there was filled with trophies won over the years in national marksmanship matches, many at Camp Perry, O., the marksman's Mecca.

Three years ago he broke a vow he had made in 1923 never to fly again and travelled 1,800 miles by air as "flying pistol adviser" for the U.S. Air Force. The tour of instruction was made at the invitation of Gen. Hugh A. Parker, then commander of the Western Air Defense Force, after Peters had taught a special course in marksmanship to Air Police sergeants at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He is credited, along with attorney A. E. Bagshaw and former San Anselmo Police Chief Donald T. Wood, with sparking formation of the Marin County Peace Officers Assn. more than 20 years ago.

"Familiarity breeds respect when it comes to guns," he once said. According to friends who knew him during his years as railroad agent, his guns saved his life on more than one occasion.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton yesterday removed from his room, for safekeeping, three handguns, an automatic pistol and shotgun.

Peters is survived by two brothers, living in the east.

Funeral arrangements were to be made this afternoon at Keaton's Mortuary by his oldest friend, A. W. Anderson of San Rafael, longtime Northwestern Pacific Railroad employee.

ELEANOR HALE

Private funeral services for Eleanor S. Hale, 69, who died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness, will be held tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Hale lived at Baywood Avenue and Crest Road in Ross, where she and her husband, George R. Hale retired seven years ago. Hale was an electrical engineer in Montreal, Canada. The couple lived in that city for more than 35 years before coming to Marin County.

Mrs. Hale was graduated from Wellesley College near Boston in her native Massachusetts in 1913. In 1917 she and Hale were married and they subsequently moved to Canada.

Mrs. Hale was a member of the Anglican Church.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. F. S. Nowland of Sausalito and Mrs. C. S. Robertson of Denver, Colo., and a brother, Raymond S. Simmons of Peoria, Ill.

Inurnment will be private.

ANNA WILSON

Mrs. Anna Wilson, 55, of Novato, died Saturday night at a local hospital after a brief illness.

She and her husband, Kennard D. Wilson, had resided at 21 Los Alondras Court, Novato, for 14 years. Wilson is a retired master sergeant in the Air Force, and Mrs. Wilson at one time was a civil service employee at Hamilton Air Force Base.

She is survived by her husband; a son, Kennard D. Wilson Jr., San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Wayne Gjesvold, Colorado Springs, and seven grandchildren. Another son, Second Lt. Bruce S. Wilson, was killed while on Air Force duty during the Korean War.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Redwood Chapel, Novato, with interment in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

DR. G. N. PIERCE

Funeral arrangements are pending for Dr. Glenroy N. Pierce, 50, a former resident of Marin County who died Friday of a heart attack in the Arkansas State Sanatorium near Booneville, where he was medical director.

Dr. Pierce moved to Arkansas three years ago to the sanatorium after practicing medicine with Dr. Cabot Brown of San Rafael for some 15 years. Dr. Pierce was a graduate of Standford Medical School and was reared in San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Marcella of the couple's residence at the sanatorium, a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Pierce of Arizona, and his mother, Mrs. A. F. Pierce of San Anselmo.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Twin Chapels Mortuary in Vallejo.

HERBERT OLNEY

Private funeral services for Herbert E. Olney, 65, were held today at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

Olney, a resident of Fairfax for 30 years and last residing at 425 Cascade Drive, died of a heart attack near his home Friday.

A native of San Francisco, Olney was a retired employee of the trust department of the Crocker-Anglo Bank in San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Irene K. Olney of Fairfax, a stepson, Jack W. Mullen, and a sister, Mrs. Henry Carmouche, both of Hollywood, and two grandsons.

Burial was in Greenlawn Cemetery, Colma.

Treated For Cut

Mike Ryan, 23, of San Francisco was treated at San Rafael General Hospital Saturday evening for a cut on the left side of his head suffered in a minor automobile accident in front of the Meadow Club in Fairfax, hospital attendants reported today.

Parking Law On Agenda In Fairfax

An ordinance to outlaw all-night parking on Fairfax streets may be introduced at tonight's meeting of the Fairfax City Council, set for 8 o'clock in the new council chambers above the firehouse.

City Atty. Wallace S. Myers had the ordinance ready for introduction at the council's July meeting, but it was postponed because the meeting ran late with other matters. The prohibition would not go into effect until September, 1962.

City Clerk Alice Leonesio said today she has two letters in favor of the ordinance to read to the council tonight. Last meeting, one letter against and one letter in favor were presented.

Also scheduled tonight is a call for examinations for a new police officer.

Key To Good Health—Your Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Do you envy the relative or friend who has the ability to throw off the effects of flu or other ailments almost before you can say "aspirin"? How does he beat those viruses?

"It's his resistance," someone may say.

Resistance to disease is not the mystery many of us think it is. It can be explained as a condition that runs hand in hand with good health. And good health is the reward of those people who help nature take care of their physical welfare. The ingredients of good health include exercise, pure food and drink, cleanliness, sufficient rest, disciplined thinking, and, above all, a body that functions at high efficiency in all its systems.

The key system of the body is the nervous system which supplies the "living power" to every part and organ. And when the free flow of nerve energy is disrupted, body resistance diminishes and invasive disease agents, such as viruses, gain a foothold in the affected area.

The nervous system can be disrupted by the accidental misalignment of spinal bones or vertebrae which form a protective canal for vital nerve trunks descending from the brain. These spinal misalignments will compress, pinch or stretch the nerves, thus hindering the flow of impulses to one or more distant organs of the body. This lack of nerve supply sets up a fertile field for disease.

Chiropractors are specialists in removing nerve interference painlessly and efficiently by means of spinal adjustments and by hand alone. One or several adjustments may restore the nervous system to top capacity, and with nature's help drive out the disease agents. An efficient nervous system, kept in good repair, is the best weapon in the war against disease. It means resistance . . . which, after all, is just plain good health.

Declaration Of American States Due

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Western Hemisphere statesmen put finishing touches today on a historic declaration allying the American states in a mighty push for progress.

President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program will become a reality Wednesday when ministers of 20 American states — and perhaps 21 — gather for a ceremonial signing of the Declaration of Punta de Este. It will be the final act in the Inter-American Economic Conference which has been meeting here since Aug. 5.

The declaration will put into motion Kennedy's program designed to pump 20 billion dollars into Latin American economies in a determined move to hold back the double threat of communism and Castroism.

A U. S. source said Kennedy's representatives at the Inter-American Economic Conference feel strongly that the alliance will inspire Latin Americans to help themselves. Self-help is one of the most important aspects of participation in the program.

"Most of the nations realize," the informant said, "that if they are going to develop at all, they must mobilize their own resources. There is a realization that many countries, by the very term 'underdeveloped' being aplied to them, are urgently in need of technical assistance in their attempt to help themselves."

Speeding Youth, 18, Is Given 'The Book'

A San Rafael police officer arrested an 18-year-old youth on more than 10 counts last night after chasing him at speeds up to 70 miles per hour around central San Rafael.

James H. Coleman of 912 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, was trapped by Officer G. R. Souza at the dead-end of Jones Place after being chased from near Fourth Street and Lootens Place, along Fifth, Mission and Tamalpais Avenues, and back along Fourth Street where Coleman nearly hit another police car at B Street. Coleman turned onto Jones after speeding along Clayton Street and west on Welch Street.

Souza reported the youth said after he was caught: "You would never have got me if I hadn't gone down a dead-end street."

He was booked at the county jail for reckless driving, driving without a driver's license, failure to stop at stop signs and red lights, driving down wrong side of street, speeding, failure to heed a red light and siren, improper turning, attempting to evade arrest, and possession of alcohol by a juvenile.

Novato Girl, 13, Sweeps Firsts In Rider Contest

Pinky Pierce of Novato became sweepstakes winner in the Junior Tamalpais Trail Riders contest held yesterday in Fairfax.

Miss Pierce, in the 13-16 year group, also won first place perpetual trophy, first place trail rider trophy, first place sweepstakes ribbon, first place ribbon and a horsemanship buckle.

Other winners in this age group were Nancy Mager, San Rafael, second place ribbon; Ziga Grant, San Anselmo, third place ribbon; Lynda Grant, San Anselmo, fourth place ribbon and Annette Caronnister, Forest Knolls, fifth place ribbon.

Winners in the 8-to-12-year contests were Jan Leibert, San Anselmo, first place trophy and first place ribbon; Lisa Dapprich, Kentfield, second place ribbon; Helana Fitzgerald, San Rafael, third place ribbon; Leonard Marconi, San Anselmo, fourth place ribbon and Ann Carson, Kentfield, fifth place ribbon.

Wallet Missing

Mr. and Mrs. David Zec of 515 Woodland Avenue, Kentfield, said today a wallet which vanished from the glove compartment of their sports car some time last week still had not been found. Mrs. Zec said she and her husband now are not sure whether it vanished after they left it to be serviced at a Kentfield service station or whether it was while they had their car worked on in a San Francisco shop.

Bike Wreck Injures Boys

Two Santa Venetia boys were injured, one of them seriously, when the bicycle they were riding ran into a moving car yesterday at San Pedro Road and Sunny Oak Drive in Santa Venetia.

Bicyclist John Klinger, 7, of 1170 Adrian Way, suffered a fractured skull and serious concussion, according to Dr. Ralph Jacobs of Terra Linda, who treated the boys at San Rafael General Hospital. Young Klinger was reported in good condition there today.

His passenger, Michael Petty 6, of 311 Devon Drive, was sent home after being treated for "large lumps on his forehead."

The driver of the car, Nancy Barney, 34, of 550 Sunset Parkway, Novato, said the bike came down Sunny Oak Drive and into San Pedro Road at 5:10 p.m. without stopping, slamming into the side of her car as she applied the brakes.

The California Highway Patrol said Mrs. Barney was not at fault.

Hospital Board To Meet Tonight

Two possible changes in construction of the new wing at Marin General Hospital and a transfer of stock are the only two items to be considered by Marin County Hospital District directors at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the hospital.

Costs of changing the laundry and central supply rooms in the addition to the hospital will be presented to the board. The board will also consider transfering title to stock which has been given to the hospital.

Hospital Meeting

Directors of the Marin County Hospital District will meet Aug. 22 at 8 p.m. in the hospital's staff lounge, Secretary Marion C. Ibach announced today.

Phone Unification Fine If It Doesn't Hide A Rate Boost

Proposal of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to turn most of Marin County into one big area for telephone service deserves the serious consideration of the public and their elected representatives. (Public hearing on the proposal is Aug. 30 in San Rafael City Hall.)

We have always been in favor of things that would unify Marin County, that would help break down barriers created by artificial lines on a map which designate this or that area.

Therefore, in general, we had the PT&T's proposal as a unifying factor. If, for example, a woman in Sausalito wants to chat with a friend in San Rafael for 15 minutes or so, it would be fine if she could without watching the message unit counter spin around and around. Or if a merchant could consider the whole county his sales area and be just as able to reach outlying customers as nearby ones, this too would be good.

Of course, a change of this kind costs money. The big problem is how much?

We have no knowledge of these kinds of things. We are interested in seeing, however, that any changes in rates made by the telephone company are in fact representative only of the cost of the change in the system and are not in any sense of the word a rate increase in disguise.

Because we are not gifted along these lines, we must rely on the state Public Utilities Commission to see that the new rate schedule is fair. If there is a rate increase concealed in the PT&T's application, it should be eliminated and made the subject of another application. The discussion on the present proposal should be limited solely to basic service for the whole county.

We can see where the PT&T would actually save some money in the change. No longer would timing devices be needed for calls between various Marin cities. Certainly this would be a savings.

Happily, Marin is in a fine position to be adequately represented before the PUC. The commission's president and one or two of the other commissioners live here. So do a number of the PUC's staff. These men will be considering their own telephone bills as well as our's.

We trust they will use extra care to make sure that there is no extra profit to the PT&T in making the change, that the rates are so fair and realistic, and that they will not cause undue hardship on individual telephone subscribers.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

ANGLER LANDS A 35-POUNDER

A fisherman off the Florida coast reeled in his finest catch not long ago—a 35-pound boy.

The man, a 74-year-old retired grocer, was getting ready to call it a day when he looked up and saw "something that looked like a doll" floating near the shore.

"I finally saw it was a child with its face up, apparently unconscious," he said.

Nobody else was around and the man knew he was not an expert swimmer. So he prepared his casting rod with a heavy line and let fly. Twice he missed. On the third attempt he hooked the boy's jacket and reeled him in slowly.

The 4-year-old was still alive and seemed in good condition.

None of us can ever tell what sort of emergency the good Lord will send our way. In any event He wants us to imitate the fisherman, who knew his limitations as a swimmer and yet persevered till he caught the little boy. You can do the same.

"While we have time, let us do good to all men." (Galatians 6:10)

Make me act, O loving Father, to relieve the distress of others in the way I can do so best.

SEPARATE RACIAL DEVELOPMENT

New South African Election 18 Months Ahead Of Schedule

By WILBUR G. LANDREY

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — South Africa is heading into new elections which Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd and his racial policy of apartheid are an almost sure bet to win.

Verwoerd has called the new elections for Oct. 18—18 months ahead of schedule. He and his National Party are seeking five more years to try to carry out separate racial developments in South Africa.

Verwoerd's "Nats," then under the leadership of the late Johannes Strisdom, won a majority of nearly two seats to one over the opposition United Party in the 1958 parliamentary elections. Barring a big upset, the Nationalists are expected to hold their ground or even increase their lead this time.

More than half of the all-white electorate are Afrikaners, as opposed to English-speaking white South Africans. And the National Party is the expression of Afrikaner nationalism. The nation's twelve million none-whites—most of them black Africans and the rest Mulattoes and Indians—cannot vote.

The word "apartheid" is now officially frowned upon as a description of the gvoernment's racial policy. "Separate development" is preferred.

It envisages the gradual development of self-governing or perhaps even independent "Bantustans" for South Africa's major African tribes. The Coloureds (Eurafricans) and Indians would also have their self-governing communities.

IN THEORY, whites would have as few rights in the black African areas as the black Africans do in the "white" areas, where they are restricted to menial jobs. The nationalists hope that the economic development of the Bantustans will eventually halt and even reverse the black tide toward the cities.

The catch is that blacks already outnumber whites in the "white" areas themselves.

The government may find it difficult to raise the necessary development capital for the Bantustans as long as foreign governments and investors disapprove the country's racial policy and fear for her stability.

THE NATIONAL Party has been little deterred by foreign criticism. It was heartened by the relative failure of the strike called by black leaders when South Africa became a republic earlier this year.

The opposition United Party, mainly English-speaking, is evolving a vague policy of partnership—with "white leadership." It has not yet been fully spelled out.

On the other side, the native African Nationalist leaders, many of them now underground, are determined in their demand for "one man, one vote." That eventually would mean black African government.

A "planned community" of 22 triplex buildings fronting on Forbes Avenue west of J Street, San Rafael, was announced for Fairhills Manor, cost estimate $800,000.

Marin County milk prices went up one cent a quart, as in 14 other counties which the state agriculture department found to be suffering from higher production costs.

Marvelous Gain In Thinking

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I read that Supervisor Fusselman has bought an Edsel. What a marvelous advance in thinking this indicates. But, I am intrigued: What did he do with his horse and buggy?

If only Mr. Fusselman's helpmates Blair and Ludy can be induced to trade in theirs on something modern like a Reo or a Hupmobile, Marin may begin to make orderly, planned progress.

Of course, any progress in Marin County generally will only leave the Larkspur City Council farther in the rear, aided by the obsequiousness of City Manager Piper and the bottomless engineering of John C. Oglesby.

Can't Afford To Ignore Red Threat

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Americans enjoy a democratic representative form of government that not only serves the people by administering to those needs most commonly voiced as necessary and vital to our common benefit, but whose duty it is to also protect our individual rights and to be our refuge in times of appeal.

These basic responsibilities of government, whether local or national, provide our fundamental security and are our source of strength collectively.

However, if we are to enjoy lastingly a government that responds to the will of the people, we also have an enormous responsibility to protect it from distortion and destruction. Our great American political parties recognize the fundamental rule of a democratic representative form of government and work within the framework of its ideals: that of "with the consent of the people."

An urgent question today is whether an organization dedicated to the ultimate annihilation of these basic ideals (freedom of speech, assembly, etc.) should enjoy all the benefits and privileges of our democracy when the intent is to use its protection as a means to destroy it.

Such an organization is the Community Party USA. Its members are totally dedicated to the principles of and subservient to the International Communist Party, which takes its direction from the party leaders in the Kremlin. Certainly, patriotic Americans can find no justification for the misrepresentation of the Communist Party USA as an American "political party." To accept this definition and thereby support public indifference to this threat is, as J. Edgar Hoover states, "tantamount to national suicide." We do not dare to ignore the urgency of this issue.

For those skeptics who pacify themselves with the thought that the threat is not immediate nor near them, and for those who feel that if they do not involve themselves in the struggle that they will not become involved in the danger, I suggest they hear former FBI undercover agent and member of the Communist Party USA for 26 years, Karl Prussion, tell the startling facts about those who are "Inside the Communist Conspiracy in California and the Bay Area" tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. in Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

Don't Further Pack Our Parks

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just re-read your editorial of Aug. 7. I agree with your statements that:

(a) The state parks are being used to capacity.

(b) That one of the reasons the state parks exist is to provide a comfortable, beautiful and interesting spot in which vacationers can enjoy their days away from home and the office, and

(c) That all an overnight tourist needs is a safe place to park and toilet facilities.

But, I cannot agree with your suggestion to let our beautiful and interesting spots, already filled to capacity, be further packed at night for no other reason but to provide free, or almost free overnight parking and toilet facilities.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Today Elia Kazan is one of the great names among Hollywood producers; but when he first sought an actor's role in the movies—back in the thirties—he was an unsung member of an "egghead" New York repertory company called the Group Theatre. "Kazan?" echoed the movie V.I.P. who interviewed him. "What kind of a name is that for a man who hopes to be a screen star? Tell you what I'd do if I were you. I'd change my name to Cezanne."

"I'm not sure that's a good idea," demurred Kazan. "There's a French painter by that name who's already pretty famous."

"So what?" belittled the V.I.P. "You make one good movie and everybody will forget that painter ever existed!"

"My wife," announced a drooping, overweight business man, "has finally stopped trying to keep up with the Joneses. Now it's the Rockefellers.!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A Name Is A Name Whether It's Bunk, Nook, Slue, Or Miserable

There are names and there are nicknames. The other day we were talking to Belvedere Fire Chief L. T. (Bunk) Mersereau and asked him how he got his name.

Bunk said, "Dad wanted a girl and I was born. He took one look at me and said 'he's the bunk.' And I've been living up to it ever since."

We immediately went to Leslie (Nook) Armager, Mill Valley fire chief. Nook, we said, what does it mean?

Nook laughed and replied, "You know, I don't know. When I was that high (about two feet) some guy named me that and I never did know the reason why."

SAUSALITO FIRE Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry said his nickname wasn't too unusual but he has a friend with a special one. He is Alfred "Pooch" Quartararo, bus driver for the Sausalito School District.

"There's also James 'Bull Montana' Martinoni with the district," said Matts.

Sausalito Fire Capt. Harold (Slue) Cardwell says he used to carry papers and he and his two brothers were known as Big Slue, Middle-Sized Slue and Little Slue.

"I was Little Slue," said Slue. "It means big feet."

But the saddest nickname is Miserable Quinn's. He gets his mail addressed simply "Miserable," Mill Valley, Calif." We asked the origin. "I'm just miserable," he said.

IN TALKING to Boone Morrison of Belvedere, we asked him if anyone in his "Thunderbird" dance band had nicknames. "None," he said and added "Boone's my real name." He did say the band has its own language, as musicians do.

He said the band plays "degressive jazz," a combination of old time rock and roll and "the better stuff on radio" with some jazz standards of the 30's and 40's.

He said his band is a "no jeans, no shorts, no capris" band and that the band is proud of the fact that in 25 dances in Marin, no officer has been needed to keep order. Six teen-agers make up an internal police force which works well, said the bandleader. A rule is that the band reserves the right to refuse entrance to anyone after 10 p.m., when troublemakers usually show up.

The university-going bandleader added that members often can control trouble from the bandstand by saying "Cool it," which means stop trying to cause trouble. Or, "One fight and we've had the course."

HE SAID the band doesn't drink except for "orange drinks," sodas. "We live on orange drink," Boone said.

When "axe" player Dean Ferguson sees a cute girl he says "Man, that calls for a big orange."

Boone said he too blows an "axe." That's a guitar. No matter what you play, you "blow." Drums are called "sticks" and music "sounds."

When playing real well, you're "out" and when it's something particularly emotional, you "wail."

"Crazy" is the biggest compliment. At the culmination of a good evening "the place stomps. Then there's a point of no return. You can't describe it. You know what I mean?" Boone asked.

"Crazy," we said.

THERE WAS a boy. He was three and he was walking alone down Caledonia Street in Sausalito without a stitch on.

Along came City Manager Charles A. Brown, who stooped down and asked his name.

"Eric."

Last name? Wouldn't say. Wouldn't go to police station with Brown.

Then John Koenig came along, recognized him as a Beckman and took him home. Eric, it seems, had been headed for the fire department to climb onto the 1927 La France fire engine parked in the lot.

Even If Newburgh Facts Didn't Hold Up, Welfare Study Is Needed

WASHINGTON — Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and Joseph Mitchell, city manager of Newburgh, N. Y., have one thing in common: they both believe that our whole social welfare set-up should be re-examined.

But their approach is radically different.

Ribicoff is setting out to get the facts before reaching his conclusions.

Mitchell has been setting out his conclusions before getting the facts.

There is no doubt that Mitchell struck a responsive chord all across the country when he made his first appeal for welfare "reform." He said he was determined to free the Newburgh budget from able-bodied reliefers who should be put to work, from "undesirable outsiders" who were placing an inordinate burden upon his community, and from "frauds and chiselers."

THAT'S JUST what many other cities and towns wanted, but now that the facts concerning the actual relief situation in Newburgh have finally come out, it developed that there was only one unemployed person who was found able to work for the city, that in the entire year of 1960 Newburgh paid only $205 to "newcomers," and this amount was reimbursed by the state, and that no single case of fraud was uncovered.

The percentage of Newburgh's population on relief in 1960 was the lowest of five comparable cities in New York state and below the state-wide average.

BUT EVEN if Newburgh itself has not produced the facts which justify its own impatience, a strong case can be made for a thorough re-examination of all welfare. It is all to the good that Secretary Ribicoff is undertaking it.

It may well develop that there is wide abuse and inefficinecy in the administration of relief on the federal, state, and local levels. But the need at this stage is to get at the facts objectively and then to fit the reforms to the facts.

That is what Ribicoff is seeking to do.

Studies were begun at Ribicoff's direction before Newburgh hit the headlines and will be completed in the next few months. They do not rest on the assumption that our welfare system is wrong but that some parts of it may no longer be applicable to present-day circumstances. Ribicoff's findings and recommendations will be ready for Congress next year.

MITCHELL PROTESTS against the uniform relief code imposed by the federal and state governments in providing funds for local use. But without that uniformity more migrant reliefers would be seeking out the community that will do best by them, thus imposing an unjust and inordinate burden on such communities.

Mitchell asks why able-bodied persons on relief shouldn't work for the city. Why not, indeed? No federal or state law prevents that. But if persons on relief do work for the city government, they must be paid by the city government — otherwise the federal government will be taking over part of every municipal payroll.

That is certainly part of an answer, but it does not seem to me adequate. Able-bodied persons on relief ought to serve the community and the welfare system ought to find proper ways to make it possible.

Traffic pattern of Marin . . .

Lots of small fry in Marin; average family has 3.5 members

Marinites practically live on food! Food sales over $54,000,000

A county and its newspaper keep the green light on growth —and something more

Outsiders see Marin as one of the growing-est areas in the nation. "Insiders" say Marin is the best of Suburbia. And statistics say Marin's kind of growth proves it's both.

Take population—up 70% in 10 years. Or average family income—$9544, highest in California. Lots of other figures prove Marin is one of the fast-growers in the United States. (For instance, it's among the top 200 counties in retail sales; effective annual buying income is now more than ⅓ of a billion dollars).

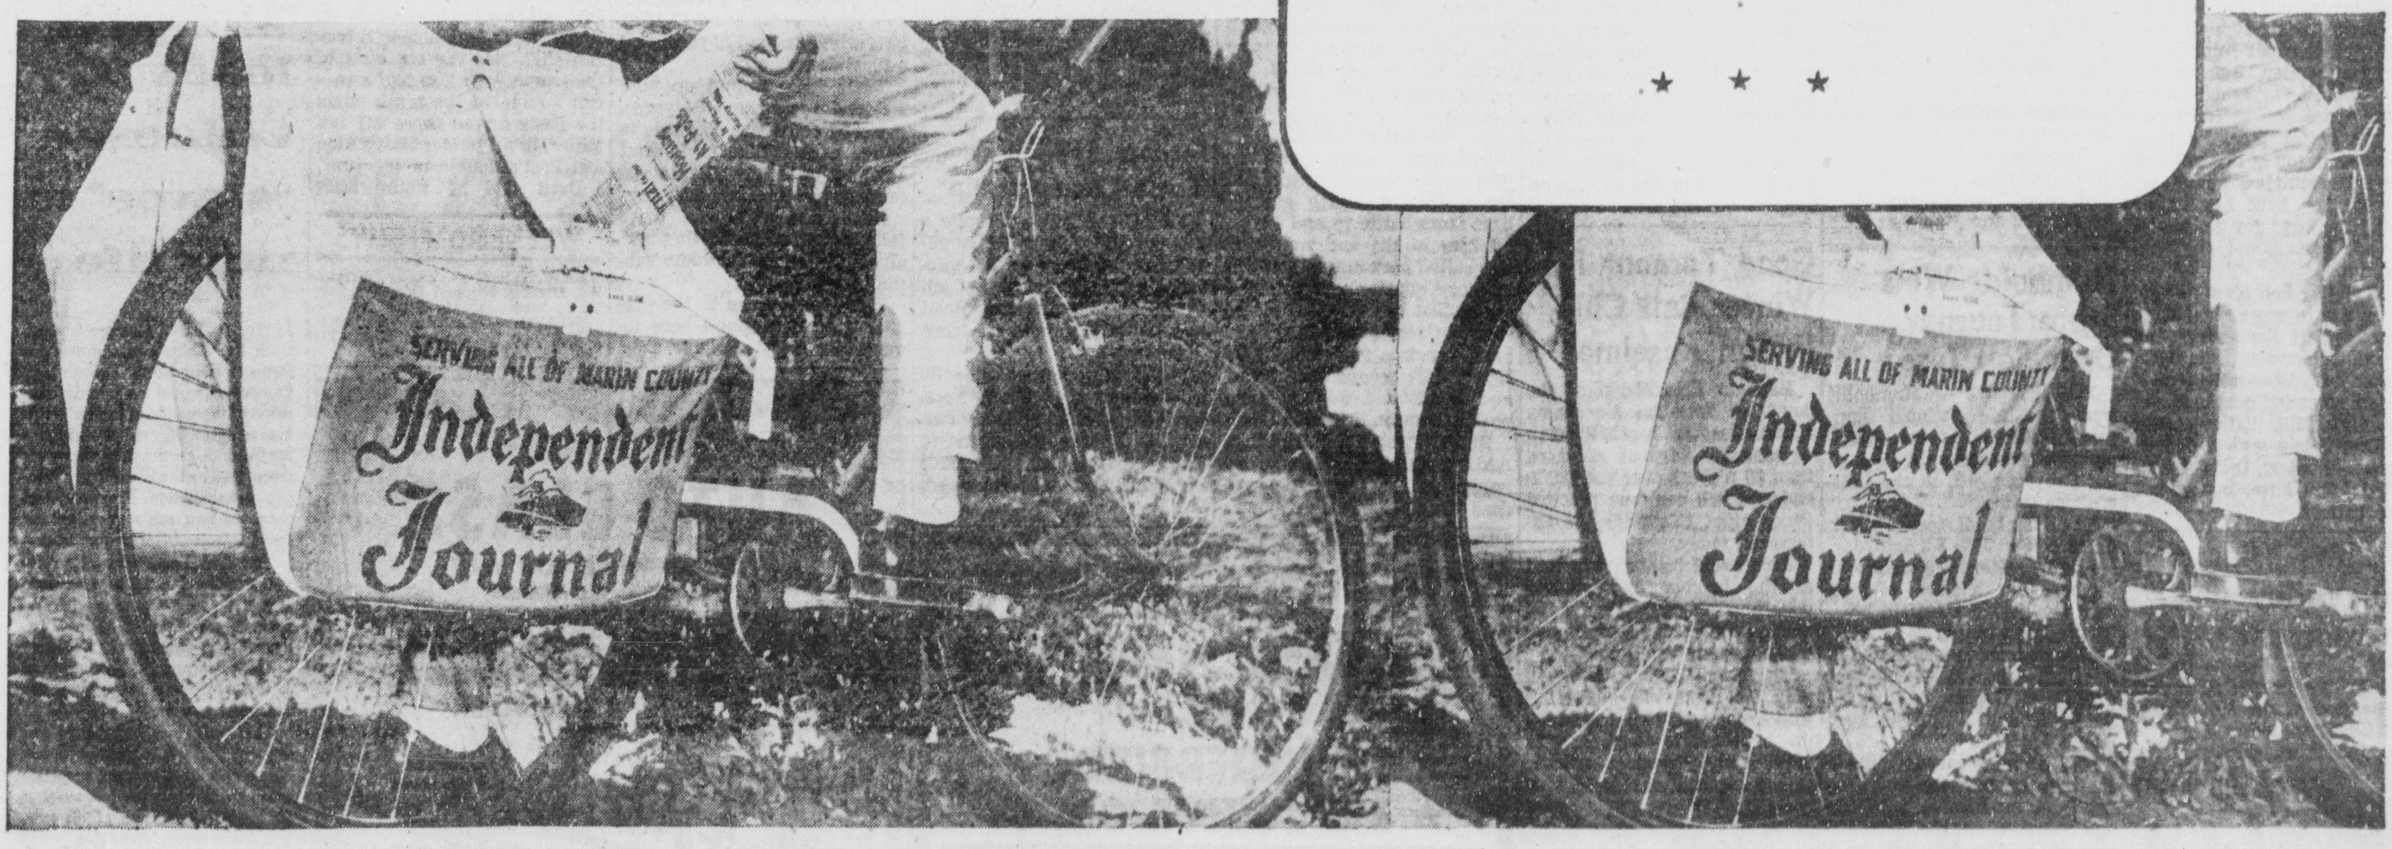

But the point is, Marin does more than grow. It creates and lives in its own cultural and consumer's paradise. And this quality of living makes it indeed, the Bounty County of California.

Need more proof? Here the average family has 1½ cars. Half the family breadwinners have gone to college and 80% of all families own their homes. Some 13% own boats. And where but in Marin would you see the last master work of Frank Lloyd Wright—a symbol in itself of new growth and good taste?

The I-J has grown even faster than population. Sixty-eight per cent of all Marin families make it a part of their daily living. And while we're happy about our 29,000 circulation figure, we're even happier about the reason.

It seems that the kind and quality of news coverage we bring you is part of the unique pattern that makes Marin . . . Marin.

Loss Good For 49ers; Lessons Should Turn To Profit Later

CONNOLLY

Shed no tears for the San Francisco 49ers. That 21-20 loss to the New York Giants last Saturday night in Portland was just what the doctor ordered.

Coach Red Hickey's boys made enough mistakes to lose a couple of games and still come up only one point short. The lessons learned are the kind that should be remembered and turned into profit all year long.

For about two-thirds of the game the vaunted 49er defense bent like a two-bit screwdriver. Were it not for the stops made by Captain Matt Hazeltine and Bob Harrison the game could have been a complete rout. Mebbe the boys were still reading last year's clippings.

Too late, the defense stiffened and showed the will to play. Had this been a league game, two earlier lapses would have been inexcusable. Be sure that Coach Hickey will put his finger in the hole in the dike that allowed the Giants to leak through and block Tommie Davis' point after touchdown and field goal tries. One would have meant the tie, the other the old ball game.

WHILE ROOKIE speedster Ray Norton got all the headlines, I was most impressed with the ball carrying of J. W. Lockett and the one-shot showing of Bill Kilmer at quarterback.

Lockett is the fast, bone-crunching type who will get you the extra three or four yards by bulling into the lighter men of the secondary instead of trying to be cute. Most rookies are so impressed with their fancy footwork that they cut their own legs out from under themselves. Not this boy. All he needs is experience, and he will get it.

In Kilmer, the 49ers have that rarest of birds, the quarterback who can run like a halfback and is not afraid to expose himself to the best shots of the secondary defense. One play does not a season make but, if you will pardon the pun, Kilmer fits the "shotgun" offense to a "T." The triple threat of passing, running and quick kicking is a throwback to the old days and it will give fits to defenders.

NORTON WAS impressive in his first real outing, but you can't help shuddering every time a couple of 235-pound bruisers hit the little speedster. If Ray can stay healthy he will add the speed the 49ers have lacked since Hugh McElhenny went over the hill. And it takes speed to spread the defense so the power plays can go.

Bernie Casey had little chance to show. His goal line fumble that gave the Giants a score was the result of a couple of questionable calls by John Brodie. It is foolhardy to get fancy with the football when your back is against the wall.

Some of the other rookies showed adequately in the time allotted to them, and we still haven't seen half of the new men. My uneducated guess would be that at least six of this very talented crop of newcomers will make the grade this year.

ACTUALLY, COACH Red Hickey's biggest problem at the moment is to integrate all this new material into his double barreled attack without ending with a ragged product. But that's a nice kind of a problem to have.

Some of the wrinkles will be ironed out by the time the 49ers tangle with the Cleveland Browns at Kezar next Sunday, and we will have better vision of the end product to be expected.

Memories of the way the "shotgun" floundered in the mud last year still linger. The greatest blessing that could fall to this club would be a couple of rainy days before the chips are down. If they can move in the mud half as well as they can on a fast track, this edition of the 49ers is going to be hard to stop.

M. V. Fielder Injured On Great Play

A spectacular accident in the eighth inning left a Mill Valley player injured and enabled the East Bay Bears to win a 6-5 decision yesterday in a semi-pro baseball battle at Mill Valley.

Central figure in the eighth inning play was Mill Valley left fielder Guy Robinson. He raced for a long fly back to the fence, leaped high and prevented the ball from going over the barrier. But on the play Robinson crashed down on the fence and suffered lacerations of the face. He then collapsed on top of the ball and before teammates could retrieve it the East Bay batter circled the bags for an inside-the-park homer and the winning run.

Mill Valley had plenty of opportunities to score, thanks to 7 hits, 6 East Bay errors and 11 walks. However, the Merchants left 19 — nineteen! — runners stranded on the bases.

Leading Mill Valley hitter was Don Palaia with a pair of singles. Pitcher Dave Perlis hurled a four hitter but walked eight batters.

26 Putts Wins Mill Valley Tournament

Mrs. Clay Lilleston scored first Friday in the low putt tournament at the Mill Valley Golf Club with a 26.

In the same class A, Mrs. D. P. Norton and Mrs. H. C. Leggett tied for second with 28s, and Mrs. B. R. Wilkie was third with a 29.

Mrs. Hugh Cavalli won class B competition with a 28 and Mrs. Henry Seagle captured third spot with 29. Behind her was Mrs. Joseph Wittenmeirer scoring 30.

TIBURON BOWS TO SAN CARLOS BY 3-0 COUNT

Tiburon Pelicans, who couldn't lost for winning early in the season, now find themselves in a reverse predicament.

They've lost six out of their last seven outings, the latest setback coming yesterday when San Carlos shut them out by a 3-0 decision at Tiburon.

The game's only scoring came in the first inning when San Carlos touched pitcher Buzz Wensloff for all three runs on a first pitch homer, a single, two wild pitches, an error and sacrifice fly.

Tiburon was held to three hits, including a double by Bob Sapp. The Pelicans' season record now stands at 8-7.

Humboldt Wins State Tourney Over San Jose

EUREKA (UPI) — Humboldt won the State National semi-pro Baseball Congress Championship yesterday by defeating San Jose, 9-2, in the best-of-three series.

The Humboldt team, which defeated San Jose 3-2 Saturday, loafed to yesterday's victory as pitcher Jim Nielson allowed San Jose just one infield hit—in the final inning.

The tournament originated in San Rafael last month but was shifted to Eureka because of the "gate appeal" of the local Humboldt team.

The transfer caused quite a controversy between San Rafael and tournament officials and resulted in the cancellation of all tourney games in San Rafael.

Good Turnout For Winter Ball Club In San Anselmo

HRs No Easier Now Than In Ruth's Era

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball which Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris are belting at a record home run pace is slightly larger, slightly lighter and slightly livelier than the ball with which Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs in 1927, scientific tests by New York Times disclosed today.

The same tests, however, failed to prove the ball should make home runs any easier today than 34 years ago. "Interesting, but inconclusive," was the scientists' verdict.

The Times, spurred by talk that Ruth's great record was in jeopardy because of the "rabbit" in the modern baseball, decided to subject some baseballs of different eras to analysis.

The job was given to a firm of consulting chemists and engineers, who spent a week putting the various baseballs through tests in laboratories and in New York's Central Park.

The baseball's were measured and the materials were subjected to closest scrutiny and chemical examination. Some were dissected. All of them were given a battering by an explosive-driven ram.

According to Robert W. Batey, the company's director of special evaluations, and Stephen E. Taub, the firm's acting director of engineering, there was no concrete finding to show the modern baseball differs appreciably from its predecessors of the last three decades.

The engineering firm tested seven balls — one of them a ball hit by Ruth in 1927, and a 1936 ball autographed by the New York Giants, a 1960 official American League ball, a 1961 American League ball from the Yankees' collection and three official American League balls bought in a local sporting goods store.

All the balls are made — and have been for years — by A. G. Spalding & Bros., Inc. whose president, Edwin L. Parker, says: "Today's ball and the one Ruth hit are identical."

Mantle, Maris Continue HR Record Pace

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle already are chipping away at Babe Ruth's wild September surge of 1927. The New York Yankees' power boys have 45 home runs with 15 to go to tie the record.

The Babe didn't hit No. 45 until Sept. 6, the year he set the all-time mark with 60 homers. It was his second of 17 in that famous September stretch drive that always has frustrated the most determined challengers.

Maris and Mantle are now 15 games ahead of Ruth's pace. He hit his 45th in game No. 132—including one tie — and they have 45 in 117 games (also including one tie).

Although Maris and Mantle each homered in the first game at Washington yesterday, it didn't mean a thing. The Senators handed the Yanks a 12-2 beating on Benny Daniels' five-hitter. Maris came through again in the second game, won by the Yanks' Jim Coates 9-4.

Despite the split, New York stretched its American League lead to 3½ games over Detroit Tigers, who absorbed a 13-5 battering at the hands of the Minnesota Twins. Bill Tuttle hit a grand slam homer and drove in six runs for the Twins.

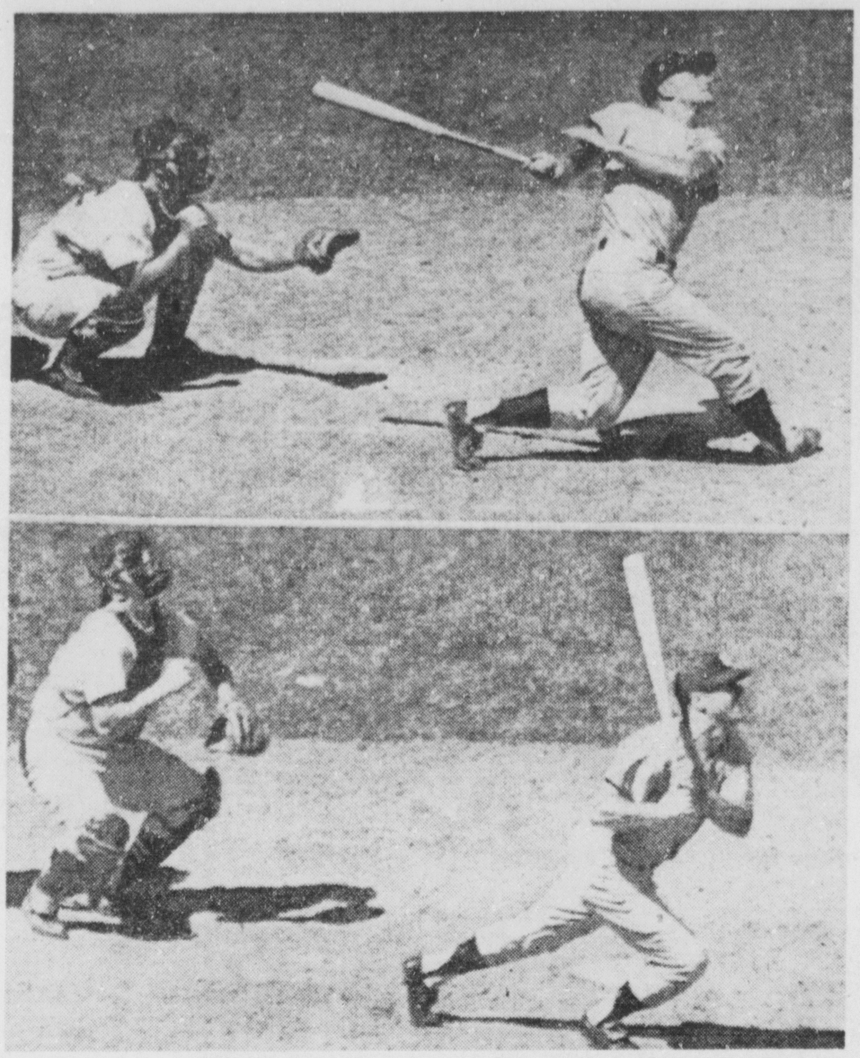

Baltimore, 11 games back, edged Boston 6-5 in 11 innings when relief pitcher Arnold Early threw away a sacrifice bunt for a two-run error. Steve Barber struck out 11 but walked 11 in a route-going effort.

Little Luis Aparicio had a big day for the Chicago White Sox with three hits, four runs and two stolen bases in a 9-3 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Joe Koppe's first major league grand slam homer and bonus rookie Tom Satriano's steal of home enabled the Los Angeles Angels to post an 8-7 come - from - behind decision over Cleveland.

Washington sent 11 men to the plate and scored six runs in the sixth inning of the opener to break open a 1-1 tie. Chuck Hinton and Jim King hit homers for the Senators, and Bob Johnson had two doubles before 27,368, largest Washington crowd of the year.

Boston and Baltimore were tied 3-3 after nine and each scored once in the 10th. The Red Sox got another in the 11th but lost when Early fielded Russ Snyder's sacrifice bunt and threw the ball over the head of third baseman Frank Malzone, permitting two runs to score. Mike Fornieles, who put the two runners on base on singles, was the loser.

BOOM BOOM BOYS AT WORK — Roger Maris (top) and Mickey Mantle are pictured in action yesterday in Washington as each of the Yankee sluggers slammed his 45th home run of the season in double-header with the Senators. Plenty Of Bright Spots For 49ers; Norton, Lockett Star

MORAGA (UPI) — No team likes to lose, but the San Francisco 49ers had plenty of good things to talk about today following their exhibition opener defeat to the New York Giants.

The Giants scored one touchdown in each of the first three periods Saturday night to nip the 49ers, 21-20 at Portland, but the New Yorkers' victory wasn't secure until the final gun sounded, thanks to the fourth quarter antics by a veteran "second string" quarterback named Y. A. Tittle.

Besides the play of Tittle, who sat out the first three quarters while John Brodie guided the offensive, Coach Red Hickey got some pleasing backs Ray Norton and J. W. performances from rookie Lockett.

TOUGH PENALTY

The 49ers might have even won or tied, too, "if it were not for a 16-yard fourth quarter pass from Tittle to end Monte Stickles in the end zone that was called back due to holding; a second quarter conversion attempt that was blocked; rookie Bernie Casey's fumble on the San Francisco two that set up New York's second touchdown, and a blocked 36-yard field goal attempt in the second half.

But Norton, the two-time AAU sprint champion and co-holder of the world 100-yard dash record, was the game's star. The first time Norton carried the ball he raced untouched 29 yards around end for a score. Norton's scamper, on the second play of the game, was set up when the Giants fumbled on the opening kickoff.

LEADING GAINER

Slender Ray was the 49ers leading yard gainer, carrying the ball seven times for 61 yards.

New York tied up the contest in the first period on an 11-yard pass from veteran Charlie Conerly to Joe Morrison.

San Francisco tallied again in the second period when Brodie hit end Clyde Conner from the five after the pair earlier had clicked on a 58-yard play.

But Giant halfback Dick Lynch blocked the San Francisco conversion attempt to leave the score 13-7.

Lynch turned in another hero's role by pouncing on Casey's fumble with 1:10 left in the half and bounding over for the touchdown.

New York scored its winning marker midway in the third quarter on a 30-yard pass from Lee Grosscup to Joe Walton, who made a fine over-the-shoulder catch. Pat Summerall's third conversion proved the deciding margin.

Tittle came off the bench in the final period to relieve Brodie, who had done a commendable job by completing 12 of 21 pass attempts for 170 yards and a touchdown.

Tittle, who wound up with a 6-for-7 record and 84 yards, marched the 49ers 66 yards to score with fullback Lockett bowling over the Giants defenders for the final 32 yards.

San Francisco's next drive fell short after the holding penalty nullified its would-be winning touchdown.

The 49ers return to the preseason practice grind here today at St. Mary's College.

BOWMAN SPARKLES

Sub Only Bright Light For Giants

Jose Pagan had better hurry back into the San Francisco Giants' lineup before rookie Ernie Bowman steals his job.

Bowman, playing shortstop yesterday because Pagan suffered a jammed thumb the day before, was the only bright light for the Giants in an 8-1 loss to Cincinnati.

The Giants had taken the first two games of the series 4-2 and 6-4, but the Reds won their final 1961 game at Candlestick Park and beat the Giants 8 of 11 meetings in San Francisco.

The Giants were off today before starting a three-game series with St. Louis tomorrow night.

Bowman, a 25-year-old 160-pounder who looks ever smaller, made three great throws, two terrific stops and ranged into left field to pluck still another hit from the Reds, who collected 15 safeties.

And he scored the Giants' only run after beating out a bunt that was placed so neatly the Reds couldn't make a play on him.

The soft-drawling youngster from Johnson City, Tenn., was no surprise to Giant Manager Alvin Dark.

VERSATILE FIELDER

"He can really run, we knew that," said Dark, "and he showed us at spring training that he could play three positions well — second, third or shortstop."

The game drew 29,559 fans, largest crowd for a Giant game since July 9. The folks were there in hopes of seeing the Giants extend a five-game winning streak, but the cheers were mostly for Bowman's infield play.

Trainer Frank Bowman said Pagan would be ready to return to action the end of the week and Dark said he hoped to start Jose again Friday when the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers come in for a three-game series.

Bowman's legs set up the Giants' tying run in the third after the Reds took a 1-0 lead in the first on Vada Pinson's 13th homer, his fifth against the Giants this season, fourth at Candlestick and third off Giant starter and loser Mike McCormick (9-11).

MAC SHELLED

The Reds broke the game open with four runs in the seventh, all charged to McCormick. Wally Post's 14th homer, a two-run shot, was the big blow of the frame. Post also had a two-run double in the ninth when the Reds scored three off Stu Miller. Right fielder Matty Alou lost Post's double in the sun.

Dark said he would start right-hander Juan Marichal (10-7), winner of his last four starts, against the Cardinals tomorrow night and follow with Jack Sanford (8-6) on Wednesday.

He's still undecided on the Thursday pitcher against St. Louis.

"If it's McCormick, I'll start Miller against the Dodgers Friday night," Dark said. "If I don't use McCormick Thursday, Mike will open the Dodger series and Billy O'Dell will work Thursday."

O'Dell has been nursing some sore ribs, bruised Saturday when he collided with rookie Bob Bolin in pre-game drills.

leads 32 Chinese "slaves" to new life

Li Sing-sui led 32 Chinese laborers from Red China's torturous slave farms to Hong Kong. Though they knew they would be joining hundreds of thousands of jobless, destitute refugees, they risked their lives for freedom. Fortunately, they were discovered by the Chuk Yuen Refugee Rehabilitation Program. And they are now self-supporting and building their own terror-free futures.

The Chuk Yuen Center for refugees is a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this endeavor is Protestant, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching aid and relief programs.

This work goes on, day in and day out . . . and it must continue. These religion-sponsored programs often are the only hope of survival to countless millions of all ages, colors and creeds. Next time you're asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember the needs of others like Li Sing-sui and his friends, who have no other place to turn for help.

It'll Take Feisty Ump To Refuse To Call Candlestick 'Infield Fly'

HANLEY

Umpires never should invoke the fly rule in Candlestick. The reason is obvious to any fan who has watched the wind whip infield flies on the Giants home lot.

An infield fly is a fair popup that can be caught by an infielder with ordinary effort, when first and second, or first, second and third bases are occupied before two are out.

The key words, of course, are "ordinary effort." It requires extraordinary effort to catch infield flies in Candlestick. Every umpire in the National League knows this. Yet, for the benefit of runners, the umpires unhesitatingly nivoke the rule.

Baseball's official rules give the umps some latitude but not much in the matter of an infield fly. "When is seems apparent," state the rules, "that a batted ball will be an infield fly, the umpire shall immediately declare "infield fly." That means the batter automatically is out and the runners advance at their peril.

But when is it apparent in Candlestick that a wind tortured popup will be caught? Everyone of them is a thrill for the fans and painful challenge for the man chasing it. Ordinary effort? Ridiculous!

First umpire who refuses to call an infield fly in Candlestick should get a medal of sorts. Jocko Conlan is a feisty and colorful gent with just enough moxy to do it. Such a call would be certain to have the proper needling effect on San Francisco's City Hall which emitted big wind blasts of its own following the criticism of Candlestick's zephrys during the late innings fo the All-Star game.

There were windy demands at the time for immediate appropriation of $50,000 for an expert study of Candlestick's weather. Has the money been appropriated yet? Don't ask silly questions.

Melvin Martin Murray is a man whose parents abviously liked the M-M-M sound. The success of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle started Martin to thinking about great baseball players whose names begin with M.

Besides Maris and Mantle, he lists outfielders Joe Medwick, Irish and Bob Meusel, Heinie Manush, Minnie Minoso, Willie M and Wally Moon; infielders Rabbit Maranville, Billy Martin, Pepper Martin and Stan Musial; catcher Gus Mancusco and pitcher Christy Mathewson, Sal Maglie, Rube Marquard and Joe McGinnity.

How about Ed Mathews, Jakie May, Lee Meadows, Fred Merkle, Terry Moore, Wally Moses and Van Lingle Mungo and Danny Murtaugh for managers?

Eagles Fly High, Even Without Norm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Football League champion Philadelphia Eagles, supposedly hurting without passing wizard Norm Van Brocklin at quarterback, have installed bench warmer Sonny Jurgensen as the heir apparent with little loss in momentum.

Conquerors of the College All-Stars in their first outing, the Eagles romped to a 38-10 exhibition triumph over the Chicago Bears Saturday night, as Jurgensen supplied the punch in their first test against a solid pro aggregation.

Elsewhere, lithe Abner Haynes put on a one-man show by racing 98, 52 and 34 yards for touchdowns as Dallas trounced Denver 31-13 in an American League pre-season test. In other NFL games, Pittsburgh edged Baltimore 24-20 and New York nipped San Francisco 21-20.

Held to a 3-3 tie in the first half, the Eagles exploded for three TD's in the third period with Jurgensen providing the first score with a 25-yard pitch to Tommy McDonald. After Ted Dean returned a punt 49 yards for a touchdown, Jurgensen flipped a three-yarder to Pete Retzlaff and put the game out of reach.

HAYNES ROMPS

Denver led Dallas 7-0 before Haynes, who gained 117 yards in 10 carries on the ground, went into action. He tied it with a 34-yard run in the first period, put the Texans ahead to stay in the second with a 98-yard punt return and iced it with a 52-yard dash in the third quarter.

The Steelers scored twice within 2½ minutes of the start of the third period to break a 10-10 tie and beat the Colts. Dick Hoak barreled across from seven yards out after Bill Butler returned the opening kickoff 83 yards, then linebacker Mike Henry rambled 35 yards for a TD with a fumble.

The Giants scored the clincher against the 49ers in the third period on a 30-yard pass from Lee Grosscup to Joe Walton, but the winning margin was provided by Dick Lynch, who knifed in to block Tommy Davis' conversion attempt after the second San Francisco touchdown.

Dodgers Eye Record Series Pay

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Dodgers are on the march, with old folks Duke Snider showing the way. The heavenly aroma of the richest World Series checks in history seems to have rejuvenated the Duke, who has 14 hits in his last 30 trips.

Winning 6 straight and 19 of their last 22 games, the Dodgers own a 2½-game lead over Cincinnati in the National League. They would be less than human if they weren't beginning to think of the loot from a series in the Coliseum with its crowds of 92,000 and Yankee Stadium with its 70,000 plus.

Cincinnati isn't folding. The Reds stuck right on the Dodgers' heels by snapping San Francisco's five-game winning streak 8-1. Wally Post drove in four runs in the Red's farewell at Candlestick Park, where they won 8 of 11 starts.

Philadelphia lost its 16th in a row, 13-4 to Pittsburgh, but finally broke its scoreless streak after 29 innings. Milwaukee's Lew Burdette won his 14th with the help of a perfect day by Eddie Mathews, who had two walks and three hits, including his 23rd homer, in an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Snider came, through with a run-scoring double and a triple in five at bats against St. Louis, while Stan Williams shut out St. Louis 8-0 with eight hits. It was Williams' 11th victory and second shutout.

Tom Sturdivant, former American Leaguer, won his second for the Pirates, although the Phils got to him for 13 hits. Pittsburgh scored eight unearned runs in the sixth inning with the help of errors by Tony Taylor and Ruben Amaro who had three misplays in the game. Bob Clemente led the Pirates with three singles and drove in three runs.

Mathews climbed into a 10th place tie with Joe DiMaggio in the all-time home run standings by hitting No. 361 of his career off Jim Brewer at Milwaukee. It was his first since July 23. By reaching base five straight times, Mathews ran his streak to nine in two days.

WINNER A LOSER HERE

Winning Cincinnati pitcher Ken Johnson is thrown out at the plate on this fifth inning action at Candlestick Park yesterday. He was tagged out by Giant catcher Ed Bailey. However, Johnson went on to score an 8-1 victory and snap a five-game winning streak by the Giants. (AP Wirephoto)

Dramatic Playoff Set In Hub Softball Meet

Sohner Tree Service captured a dramatic 2-1 victory over Junction Inn of Oakland in the last regular contest of the San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament yesterday to tie Presidio for first place and force a play-off for the championship next Sunday.

Both teams finished the 15-game round-robin tournament with 4-1 records. Presidio's only loss was a 6-5 setback in 11 innings to Sohner's while Hamilton Field whipped the Treemen in the tournament opener for the host team's only defeat.

Hamilton Field and Junction Inn finished in a third-place tie with 3-2 marks. Petaluma Merchants (1-4) were fifth and Peri's Tavern (0-5) last.

Yesterday's victory was Sohner's third one-run verdict of the tournament. After bowing to Hamilton (2-6), the San Anv selmo nine defeated Presidio (6-5), Peri's (5-1), Petaluma (9-8), and Junction Inn (2-1) in that order.

LEATHERWOOD STARS

Jay Leatherwood notched all four Sohner wins, three as a starter and one as a reliever.

The fast-balling righthander was never sharper than he was yesterday as he limited the Oaklanders to three hits while striking out five and walking only one.

Junction Inn's Fred Schott was equally effective however, allowing the Treemen only two singles and three walks over the seven-inning distance.

CLUTCH HIT

But one of those hits was second-baseman Ed Schultze's clutch single in the first inning to drive home Earl Beyer and Art Donati with what proved to be the deciding runs. Beyer had been hit by a pitched ball and Donati was safe when his sacrifice bunt attempt was bobbled.

The Oakland team scored its lone run in the second on a bunt single by Jim Cunningham and Joe Navarro's two-out double.

Junction Inn threatened in the final inning, but Sohner shortstop Ron Jerome sped to his left to stab pinch-hitter John Galvin's line drive and double Dale Willingham off second to end the game.

Hamilton Field's Clyde Falvella hurled a four-hit shutout in yesterday's opener to give the defenders a 4-0 win over Petaluma. Third-baseman Jim Karnes homered for the winners.

Next Sunday's Sohner-Presidio clash is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

Richmonder Cops Lipton Yacht Trophy

Sailing an uphill race much of the way, Bill Clausen of the Richmond Yacht Club finally broke clear in the homestretch yesterday to capture the Lipton Trophy.

He piloted his Random to a 38-second edge over runnerup Haven, owned by Bill Gorman of the Aeolian Y.C.

Third in the fleet of six Hurricanes was defending champion John Rumsey of the San Francisco Y.C. in his Gandy. Following in order were Kemah, Encinal Y.C.; Figaro, Sausalito Cruising Club; Ichiban, Sausalito Y.C.

SAN FRANCISCO Y.C.'s "Moonlight Marathon" was won by the host club's Trident, Roger Eldridge's IC class sloop.

It was a long night for the 61 contestants as winds were light in San Pablo Bay and the winner didn't finish until 4:10 a.m. Sunday.

In second place, four minutes later, was Norm Lezin's West Wind skippered by Bruce Easom. A surprise third was Ricki Treacy who skippered the Iorana, Paul De Sylva's IC sloop.

Sweet Teener Turns 'Killer' In National AAU Swimming

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A sweet, teen-age girl with a "killer complex" in the water heads the youngest swim team ever picked to represent the United States in top-level international sports competition.

The lassie who is steel-hearted in the pool and sugar and spice out of it is Carolyn House, 15, successor to the great Chris Von Saltza as queen of American swimmers.

The freshly-crowned 200, 400 and 1500-meter free-style champion tops a squad of 12 swimmers and two divers selected on their performances in the National AAU Outdoor Championships to compete against Europe's best in five meets aboard, Aug. 16-Sept. 5. Susan Doerr, 16, butterfly stroke titlist and 100-meter world record breaker from the Philadelphia Vesper Boat Club, withdrew for personal reasons. She was replaced by Nancy Kanaby of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland, Ore. Nancy, at 23, is the oldest on the squad.

Miss House, a member of the 1960 Olympic team, became the only triple winner and high-point scorer (24) of the four-day national meet when she came from behind and raced off with a two-yard victory in the 200-meter free-style final yesterday.

Carolyn, of the Los Angeles A.C. trailed Robyn Johnson, 15, of the Northern Virginia A.C. (Arlington, Va.) and Laurel Watson, 14, of Santa Clara (Calif.) A.C. for the first 100 meters. Then she poured it on in typical fashion. She pulled ahead by a yard at 150 and won by two yards going away from Robyn in 2:18.9.

"Carolyn is a thinker and a killer in the water," said George Breen, former Olympian and now coach of the Riviera Club of Indianapolis. "She watches Murray Rose (the Australian Olympic champion) all of the time and thinks and swims like he does. And Murray is the brainiest and toughest competitor in the water I've ever seen. Carolyn has his killer complex. She'll murder you."

Following are winners of titles with times or points:

John Ames Snares Archery Tourney

John Ames of San Rafael won the August Northwoods Bowmen's Tournament yesterday, scoring 740 points and besting a field of 24 of Marin's top archers. Fred Del Pino of San Anselmo was second.

Carlton Melin won the 175 class and Farrington Jones of San Anselmo topped the 100's.

In the ladies' division Sybil Paradise of Novato won her class and was the only lady to qualify.

Don Graham of San Rafael took the Intermediate boys and was third in the high-over-all with a score of 646.

Twenty Pins awarded for possible scores of 20x20 on the longer targets were won by Jim Burr and Ames.

Al Hoffer, the club champion and favored to win yesterday, was plagued with bad luck and failed to finish.

Angry Racing Mob Threatens Crews

WEAVERVILLE, N.C. (UPI)—About 1,500 racing fans rose up in anger here yesterday when the Western North Carolina 500-mile Stock Car Race was halted after the 258th lap because of unsafe track conditions.

The crowd angrily blocked the exit of drivers, mechanics and pit crewmen from the pit area. They attempted to turn over the press box and a few nearby cars.

The drivers and crews waited for about two hours in the pit area while police tried unsuccessfully to disperse the crowd. Then they moved into the crowd armed with tire tools, wooden clubs and other weapons.

Three persons were injured in the melee, none seriously.

Track officials halted the race after racing accidents had injured four persons.

Pet Show Planned

Homestead Valley Improvement Club will hold its second annual pet show starting at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Homestead School and will include a horse parade, dog and cat parades.

Bobo Faces Crucial Test In Comeback

OAKLAND (UPI) — Bobo Olson reaches another crucial milestone in his comeback effort tonight when he meets Roque Maravilla here in a 10-round light-heavyweight fight.

Olson, 33-year-old onetime middleweight champ, needs to win to preserve the momentum of his comeback, which began two years ago. If he loses the two years might be wasted.

Olson stopped Maravilla, a 25-year-old from Boise, Idaho, via a technical knockout in seven rounds when they met in Portland last year.

Matchmaker Don Chargin expects "between eight to ten thousand dollars" in the till after the bout at Oakland Auditorium.

Maravilla, who has never been counted out, has a 34-7-1 record. Olson brings a 74-11-0 overall score to the fight. Both expect to weigh 178.

Maxwell Credits Luck In Insurance City Golf Win

HARTFORD, Conn., (UPI) — Billy Maxwell, a modest Texan, today attributed his stirring come-from-behind victory in the Insurance City Open Golf Championship to pure luck.

Six strokes behind at the start of yesterday's final round, Maxwell shot a five-under-par 66 to pull into a tie with Ted Kroll for first place and then outlasted the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., veteran by dropping a five-foot birdie putt on the seventh extra hole.

Maxwell said he was "as excited about winning this tournament as anything I have ever won."

"But this was a case where the better golfer didn't win." Billy added. "Kroll was playing great golf and he figured to take it. I guess I just got lucky."

Maxwell, though, needed more than luck in overcoming his large deficit on the final day of action at the Wetersfield Country Club.

The Dallas, Tex., shotmaker birdied the first hole of the last round, eagled the second with an 80-foot wedge shot, and birdied the fourth and sixth with putts of 10 feet or longer. He made the turn in five-under-par 30 and toured the back nine in par figures to tie Kroll at 271.

On the seventh hole of the sudden death playoff, both Maxwell and Kroll sprayed their drives into the rough. Kroll's approach shot caught the lip of a bunker and bounced back into the trap. Maxwell made a neat recovery, his ball dropping only five feet from the pin. Billy then canned his putt to end the marathon struggle.

Maxwell's victory, his third of the year, was worth $4,300 and raised his 1961 earnings to $26,658.

Joe Campbell of Chattanooga, Tenn., who shared the third round lead with Kroll, shot a 73 to Kroll's 72 that earned him third place. Doug Sanders, Frank Boynton and Phil Rodgers finished two strokes back of Campbell at 274.

'Improve, Or Else' Edict To Raiders

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Coach Eddie Erdelatz says the often ragged blocking and tackling his Oakland Raiders displayed in losing to Houston 35-17 Friday night will be changed—or else.

Erdelatz said he was at a loss to explain the lapse in fundamentals after a series of promising looking scrimmages here before the exhibiiton game in Honolulu.

He said there would be improvement "or else" by Saturday's American Football League exhibition in Denver against the Broncos.

SUNDAY SERMON:

Pastor Says St. Paul's Words Are Important

"Brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel . . . " are important words of St. Paul, Rev. Joseph S. Doron told his congregation yesterday in his sermon at Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

"These words (from the Book of Corithians in the Bible) are important to us because they are the only words we have on this subject from the lips of one who had encountered the risen Christ," said the rector.

Rector Doron explained simply how Paul described the Gospel:

"Let's put it this way—We are lost. We see the light. We come to a house. We knock on the door. It opens to us and we find welcome, shelter, security, refreshment — and a home. It is ours for as long as we choose to remain—forever, if we will have it so. It is God's plan and hope for us. We enter through the door of baptism, participating, in this great sacrament, in the death and resurrection of Christ. The only thing we did was knock on the door. All the rest God did for us, not because we deserved it or had earned it, but because God loves us.

"When we realize how much God loves us," declared the rector, "we are better able to understand what St. Paul further meant by . . . "We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him."

"Nothing in all creation, says Paul, can spoil or wipe out our relationship with God, if we continue to love Him. God is with us in trouble, in tragedy, in death. He brings us through it all in triumph. We are with him in the home he has planned for us, the home that though unseen in this life, is still real. And very, very real in the life of the world to come," Rector Doran concluded.

Three Men Jump, Beat Youth, 17

Howard Reinholdt Bergmark, 17, of San Francisco, a former student at San Rafael Military Academy, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital after being beaten by three unidentified men early yesterday.

Bergmark told San Rafael Police the trio jumped him on Francisco Boulevard at 1:30 a.m. when he stopped his car to help them change a tire.

As he stooped over to look at the jacked-up wheel on their "1956 or '57 green Plymouth sedan," he said one of them pinned his arms behind him while the others beat him. He said he had been on his way to meet friends but was early for his appointment and offered to help the men while killing time.

Bergmark said they knocked him partially unconscious and fled. He described two of them as being about six feet tall, dark haired and wearing jeans. He said he could identify two of his assailants.

Hospital attendants said Bergmark suffered no internal injuries or fractures but was badly cut on the face and knee and bruised about the body. He was held for observation.

German Visitor Finds Americans Awake To Crisis

By BARBARA HOSMER

Revisiting America after nine years is the pleasant task of a young German school teacher who first came as an American Field Service exchange student for a year at Santa Paula High School in Southern California. And interest in her country is much greater now, she finds.

Hildegarde Zanssen has returned to California to visit friends she made here in 1952 and 1953 and is currently a guest in Marin. She is scheduled to leave in a few days for New York where she will board a ship to shepherd 70 teenagers from the United States to Germany to spend the year on the American Field Service Exchange program.

Right now she is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiper's daughter, Ann, in Sausalito. They met when both were high school students and Hildegarde was visiting the Katherine Delmar Burke School in San Francisco where Ann was a student.

"I'm having a vacation now," said the young teacher, who will soon return to Germany and begin teaching in West Berlin.

Why West Berlin?

"For two reasons," said Hildegarde, "I wanted to continue to use and study English and I will teach English in this German American school." She would not have an opportunity to do this at other elementary schools in Germany.

"Also I am looking forward to living in this interesting place. It is very complicated situation now, of course, but if it continues to be, West Germany will probably become complicated also," she said.

She has found Americans, those traveling in Europe and her friends here, much more interested in the political situation than before.

"Of course nine years ago the situation was not that serious in Berlin," she commented, "but now I find that interest has grown strongly. This gives me courage. We need this country in the background. Without your help we wouldn't be as we are today."

Aside from greater interest in world affairs and travel, how do Americans strike this traveler nine years later? "More crowded in California. More small cars—I hardly saw a Volkswagen when I was here before . . ."

Hildegarde said that she was somewhat prepared for these changes, however, by the nearly 40 Americans who have visited her in Europe since she returned in 1953. Included were the Wipers—Ann and Hildegarde enjoyed a visit about five years ago, and last year Mrs. Wiper was able to meet Hildegarde's family, who live in Solingen, where her father is a doctor. "Eventually all of both families will know each other, the visitor said.

How do the Germans view America- Hildegarde said that they are very curious about this country and its people. She herself is encouraged by the increased number of Americans who express their wish to learn to speak a little German. She hopes that she can manage to do a little to give a truer picture of the United States to her German students and friends.

They know much about your country, she says, but they do not always understand it well. "I am so thankful that I was able to live with an American family in Santa Paula for a year." Hildegarde abhors the idea of being a tourist— "I feel as a member of the Wiper family" not a "curious German tourist" she says of her Marin visit. During her stay here she has eaten in a Japanese restaurant, visited hospitals, toured the Peninsula, seen a parade in Chinatown and driven to Sonoma and the Valley of the Moon.

The young teacher, who has taught three years in Wesel, was chosen by the American Field Service in Germany to escort the Americans to her country. She will teach German and brief them on customs, history and politics, all in 10 days aboard ship.

Then she will leave them in Rotterdam and begin the move to West Berlin. But she plans to revisit America many more times for her vacation.

ADMIRING THE VIEW from the walk outside Mission San Rafael Arcangel is Hildegarde Zanssen, who is visiting in Sausalito with Mrs. Thomas Wiper, right, and the Wipers' daughter. Hildegarde is revisiting California before she returns to her native Germany to teach in West Berlin. A former American Field Service exchange student in California, she will soon escort an American AFS group to Europe. The Marin family has taken the German visitor sightseeing around the Bay Area during her vacation here. (Independent - Journal photo)

CRUSADER

'Operation Concept' Launched In Field Of Educational TV

NEW YORK (UPI) — A crusading consultant to the national educational television and radio center (NET) has launched "Operation Concept" to unify the teaching of cultural subjects in the United States.

To hear Maia Gregory talk, you'd think she was an old hand in the educational field. Actually, she's a recent arrival in the educational TV field by way of a career that has included dancing, acting, and most recently a story editorship with United Artists Film Corp.

The important thing is that this chic, dark intellectual has arrived with a bundle of ideas. First off, she has created an outline for a series of eight shows for the 50-station network that will cover the visual, musical and literary arts of great periods of civilization from Egypt to 18th Century France.

"Now I'm sitting around waiting for the network to raise $300,000 to produce the series," said Miss Gregory. "While waiting I've been checking up on educational TV, which is suffering from terribly small budgets. It has no concept—just a program on science here and a program on art there. No unity, no planning. It's terrible."

Miss Gregory believes educational TV can do what public schools have been failing to do—make the study of civilization a living experience by relating the arts of each period to the thought, social concepts and religion of the period. It also can wipe out the fallacious idea that culture has been an orderly progression toward superior forms, she said.

"No period of art, literature or music is greater than another," she said. "Each is an expression of a different time and a different thought. If you don't believe that, you could make some pretty odious comparisons between modern art and the art of classic Greece."

Miss Gregory's TV series will emphasize the concept of style as the expression of a cultural era. She will employ unconventional means of illustrating style, such as use of actor-mimes, dancers, and music played on archaic instruments, as well as conventional demonstration of examples of painting, furniture, architecture and costume.

After the initial series of eight 60 minutes programs, Miss Gregory would like to produce a series of 30-minute programs that will analyze in depth the main periods of art which have ben introduced in oroad terms.

"What I am trying to do on educational TV is what our schools should be teaching," said Miss Gregory. "Unfortunately most teachers do not have the background to relate the various arts to each other and to our culture. The real revolution must first take place in our teachers colleges."

Miss Gregory is experimenting with her educational theory in a small way at the Children's Saturday Art Center in Nyack, N.Y. The center was organized by parents who wanted their children to have a more creative approach to the arts. She has been supplying material for the courses.

"The next generation is going to have a great deal more leisure than we have had," she said. "Are we going to stir our children's curiosity about culture or are we going to pass on interests no deeper than blowing and drinking?"

SHOP VOTES TO DONATE TO CHARITY

At the August meeting of members of the Sausalito Salvage Shop a large sum was voted for donations to national and local charities.

To American Cancer Society, $200; Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, $150; Family Service Agency of Marin, $250; Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, $200; Richardson Bay Recreation League (Sausalito School District), $125 and Marin County Humane Society, $100.

The sale of donated articles at the shop makes it possible for the group to give $6,000 to $8,000 annually. Next month will herald the 21st anniversary of the shop's operation.

'Fair Lady' Will Receive Salute At Sausalito Showing

"My Fair Fall Lady" takes the center of the stage at 12:30 p.m. Thursday at Fashions With a View from the Ondine, Sausalito, when it salutes the musical "My Fair Lady" on its return engagement in San Francisco.

Welcome will be given to Caroline Dixon and Michael Evans, as Eliza and Mr. Higgins. They will be joined by Charles Victor and Hugh Dempster.

The first showing of the fall collection from the California house, Miss Pat, will take place during the luncheon. Models will be three Marinites representing the "fair fall ladies." They are Frances Hurlbut, a senior at the University of Arizona and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Lyman Hurlbut; Joan Harris, a senior at San Jose State College, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris; and Rita Harpster, a senior at Redwood High, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Harpster and Mesdames John Jansheski, William Donohoe and John Bellamy Jr.

SUMMER DAYS at Arequipa mean more and more trained swimmers and life savers among Marin youngsters as the Marin County Girl Scouts take advantage of the new pool given them and just opened this year. It is 30 by 60 feet and has a nine foot depth for divers. Now the council hopes to provide senior life saving instruction and water safety instructors training for Marin girls.

New Pool, Headquarters Give Scouts Double Grand Opening

Two "grand openings" were provided for Marin Girl Scouts when the local council office officially moved into its new quarters at Arequipa, and the newly constructed swimming pool was opened the same day. Although the office and pool will formally be dedicated on Oct. 15, they are both open for business.

Redecorating of the office, the former nurses' quarters when Arequipa was in operation as a sanitarium, was made possible by a gift from the Steinau-Glaser Foundation. The building will be called Steinau House in memory of the late E. A. Steinau Sr., who served Marin Girl Scouting for many years as a member of the board of directors. Arrangements for the gift were made by the former Mrs. Steinau, Mrs. Neville Rich, and E. A. Steinau Jr., both of Belvedere. Mr. Steinau Jr. served as the architect for the remodeling.

The members of the Girl Scout staff have private offices in Steinau House, with additional rooms serving as a library, a large room for board and committee meetings and an office for volunteers.

The first girls to use the new pool were Intermediate Scouts from central district attending the day camp session at Arequipa. The Arequipa Foundation provided the grant for the heated 30x60 foot pool which has a nine foot depth for diving.

The committee handling the arrangements for the pool was comprised of Frank E. Duhme, Jr., chairman of the Arequipa development committee, Harold F. Green and John G. Cooke.

The Girl Scout Council hopes to provide an instructional program of swimming, including senior life saving and water safety instructors training, for its members. The pool will be available to all Girl Scout troops for instructional and recreational swimming.

Civil Defense Is Project Of Legion Units

Two Marinites attended the civil defense meeting called by state leader Mrs. Robert Patton of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Whitcomb Hotel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Jean Lestenguet of Fairfax, district 5 president, along with other Northern California district presidents of the organization, and Mrs. Francis Fugate of Corte Madera, state editor of the California Auxiliary News, were among those who heard California civil defense chief, Mrs. Carolyn Barrick.

How women's organizations such as the American Legion Auxiliary can further civil defense for the protection of their families was outlined. The family action program of home preparedness was adopted as the main project of the Auxiliary this year and will be coordinated through the offices of Civil Defense.

Auxiliary members will participate in the Alameda training course Nov. 12-17 given by Mrs. Gene Fuller, director of women's activities for Civil Defense. Trainees will in turn train civil defense chairmen in the auxiliary's 587 units.

Coordinating efforts with civil defense authorities in Marin will be members of Bolinas Bay Unit No. 572, San Anselmo Unit No. 179, Twin Cities Unit No. 313, Wilkins Unit No. 37 and Mill Valley Unit No. 284.

Appointments of civil defense chairmen in the 29 units of District 5 have been named, and their efforts will be coordinated by district chairman Mrs. Bryce Florence of Larkspur.

Child Aged Five Said Too Bright To Go To School

LONDON (AP) — At the age of 5, Verina Greenway is too bright to go to school.

She speaks and reads English, French and Italian. She can spell and write as well as a normal 10-year-old child. Her arithmetic is as good as an eight-year-old's.

But Verina is no bookworm. She also swims, skates and plays the piano. And she's so good at dancing that she's won 23 prizes. Her mother, Mrs. Kerra Greenway, a professional dancing teacher, said in an interview that she believes a great many children could be as clever as her daughter.

The mother's rules for raising a bright child: "Have love in the home—and lots of it.

"Never ignore your child's questions. Answer them fully.

"Don't let grandma or a nurse bring up your child. Do it yourself."

Verina's mother knew her child was very smart and sent her to school at the ago of 5.

After several months her teacher said, "She's a genius and she's too bright for regular school right now."

The teacher advised Mrs. Greenway to have an educational psychologist examine Verina and decide what sort of education she should have.

The mother and the child's father, a British doctor, agreed.

Soon, they are taking Verina for a two-month vacation in Italy.

"I shall work and go down to the beach every day," said Verina. "I think I shall also take up painting when I'm in Italy."

Non-Reversible Plaid Is Cut On A Single Layer Of Fabric

By EUNICE FARMER

"I would appreciate it very much if you would pass along information through your column about cutting a non-reversible, uneven, plaid. Thanking you in advance."—Mrs. J.R.

Dear Mrs. J. R.:

This is one type of plaid that is best to cut on a single layer of fabric, rather than folded. As with any plaid, you must decide what part of the design will look best for the center front, and then use this throughout the garment.

Don't cut anything out until you have planned where each piece of your pattern will be layed out.

Take each piece of your pattern separately, lay it on your fabric in the correct position, then outline this piece with chalk. This will be your way of knowing just how much you have to work with.

Now, take this same piece of pattern and turn it over. You must place this piece in the exact place on your fabric so the two will match. Cutting a plaid of this type takes extra time and concentration, but when it is well done, there is nothing to equal it.

Don't overlook the possibility of using part of your plaid on the bias, such as a yoke, or the entire bodice. This makes the most attractive self-trim possible.

"Your column is the most inspirational and needed column to home sewers. You have given me the courage to do things I never would have dreamed of doing before.

"I know it is primarily devoted to sewing techniques, and that's what we need most, but please come to our rescue once in a while on styles. I think there are many women who share my feelings on this.

"I so often choose a pattern and material that just aren't right for me. This brings up my question.

"It seems like all the new patterns are without collar and sleeves. This is not only wrong for my personal needs but I don't think the style does anything for me. Do you suggest style above all?"—Mrs. B.B.E.

Dear Mrs. B.B.E.:

You are right! This column actually is devoted to answering the little techniques that take your clothes out of the "home-made" category. However, no matter how beautifully a garment is made, if it lacks that certain "oomph," or if it is not right for you, you have wasted your time and money.

You will always have extremes in fashion, but you must learn to modify these extremes to fit your own personal needs. As to collar-less and sleeveless clothes, your age is the most important factor here.

Unless you are under 40, you probably need something to soften the lines of your face and neck. You can use a small collar, ascot filler, and many other details that will give the illusion of the new look.

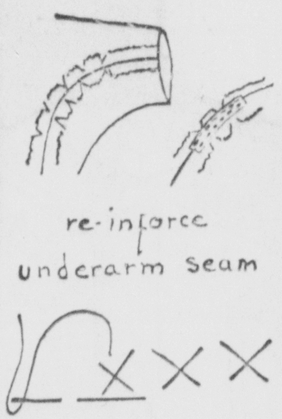

There are few women who look well in a sleeveless dress. I would suggest a slight cap sleeve for almost everyone.

"From time to time, I have seen the words "catch-stitch" either on pattterns or sewing leaflets. Please tell me what this means and where would it be most likely to be used?"

—Mrs. C.S.

Dear Mrs. C.S.:

Catch-stitching is often used for hems, linings, etc. You must work from left to right, catching in a thread of the upper layer of fabric and then catching in a thread of the lower layer of fabric. See illustration.

Please send all questions and suggestions to Sew Simple, in care of the Independent-Journal, Women's Dept., San Rafael. If you are having trouble getting sleeves to fit your garments, send for "All About Sleeves." Manufacturer Says Glass Containers Are Here To Stay

NEW YORK (UPI) — A manufacturer saw glass giving off a rosy glow today in its battle with metals and plastics to hold the major share of the food and beverage container market.

Reginald Armour, president of a glass manufacturing corporation, said more persons in the United States bought food and drink in glass containers last year than ever before.

Armour bases much of his optimism toward the future of glass on the development of disposable containers for beer and soft drinks. He believes that these are slated to win back a good percentage of the beer and soft drink market which has gone over to cans.

"Glass containers," said Armour, "enjoy a substantial and impregnable raw material cost advantage over metal cans and plastic bottles.

"While it is difficult to compare labor costs between bottles and cans," Armour said, "it is certain that glass has a sizable advantage over plastic."

Armour predicted that in the year ahead, glass companies will be able to sell between 25 and 30 disposable containers for every returnable one replaced.

FOOD AND THE FAMILY

Hate To Cook, Find It Fun? Food Attitudes Interesting

By BARBARA HOSMER

What makes food, vital to life, so interesting?

Savory victuals and their recipes from a universal language whether you are at the little league ballpark or a formal sit-down dinner. Everyone has a preference and something appreciable to add on the subject.

"It's a matter of taste," people often say, an expression stemming from the highly individualistic preferences each person has for his ideal feast. Differing attitudes toward food have just been collected in a survey report underwritten by a soft drink company and undertaken by professional pollsters, mostly Ph.Ds. The result, while not so startling, is interesting and we'd like to present some of the highlights in a series of daily articles.

"I hate the thought of cooking every day . . ."

"I don't mind it if I have all day to prepare . . ."

"I love to bake . . ."

"It's fun to cook when somebody appreciates it . . ."

OVER BRIDGE TABLE

These are common attitudes you hear expressed in buses, at the hairdresser's, or over the bridge table. They show up also in the survey of family food habits for which 51 housewives were spoken with at length. Most of the women were 25 to 44 years old and had been housekeeping for some time. Eleven of the ladies were from Berkeley, while others live in Chicago, Gary, In., Findlay, O. and Louisville, Ky. They were selected for a range of age, number of children and social class by the researchers.

From this sampling the report says that on the whole, "women fall into two distinctive groups with respect to their feelings about food. One group enjoys food per se and delights in eating tasty and well-prepared meals any time and any place." It continues that these people find good food an end in itself and they let their taste buds determine what they eat." They live to eat."

In contrast the other group eats to live, seeing food as "sustaining life." Eating they find a necessity devoid of much pleasure. They demand meals that are filling, healthy and nourishing, with taste an unimportant matter. These persons include the stokers who sit at the table silently fueling up just as a coal furnace is fed to keep it burning smoothly.

Billy's Baby Sister Means A Shattered World For Him

"Billy" is almost three. He is a husky little guy, always on the go. His grin would warm your heart. But Billy isn't grinning now. He has a new baby sister. His life has changed suddenly. Billy feels displaced and forlorn.

His sister is just 5 weeks old. Billy used to be the center of attraction. Now the baby is. Billy watches his mother lean over the bassinet, and say sweet things. He hears her sing the songs she used to sing to him. His whole body trembles, and he cries. His mommy doesn't seem to love him any more.

Yesterday Billy walked quietly into the baby's room. Nobody was looking. He stood there for a moment. Then impulsively he grabbed a tiny arm and bit, hard. The baby screamed. Billy's mama came running. She saw what had happened, and gave him the spanking of his life. Today Billy is shattered. The roses are gone from his cheeks. He has a vacant look in his eye. He hardly answers when spoken to. He is a thoroughly frightened, puzzled little boy.

Billy's mother came to me. The change in him scared her. We've been talking about ways to help an older child when a new baby arrives. We worked out a new routine for her boy. Her husband will take care of the baby for a full hour each afternoon. She will be with Billy then. They'll walk together, talk together, play together. In the early evenings she'll take care of the baby, and Billy's daddy will spend time with him. They'll do things Billy enjoys. Eventually Billy will realize his parents still love him. Then he'll be able to adjust, and return to normal. God bless you, Billy. Good luck!

Florida Awards Certificate To Its First Blind Teacher

ST AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI) — Blue-eyed Mary McCullough, 23, is the daughter of a school teacher. Ever since she can remember she has had one goal in life—to teach school.

State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey asked the state cabinet to certify the Stetson University graduate as a full-fledged teacher. The state's top officials agreed to waive a requirement that all teachers be physically fit and voted to give the red-haired Miss McCullough a teaching certificate.

She has been completely blind for the past eight years.

"I'm so happy they have given me a chance," Miss McCullough said after hearing the news. "I'll try very hard to be a good teacher."

Miss McCullough attended the state school for the deaf and blind here after she lost her sight in the ninth grade. She was graduated from Stetson this year with a degree in elementary education and did her interne teaching at the sixth grade in Daytona Beach. Teaching, she said, is a cinch.

"The children tried to see what they could get away with at first," she said. "But they soon learned I could hear and knew more than they thought and they soon settled down.

"I use more or less an honor system, and there is little cheating. Other students really on their honor stare down any who may try to cheat. And sixth graders don't like to do anything to displease their little boy or girl friends."

"I have wanted to teach since I was very small," she said. "When I lost my sight, I wondered if I could still become a teacher. It's a job to convince others I can ro it. But my father said I could."

Miss McCullough said she does her own cooking, washing, ironing and other domestic chores and hires a reader to help her grade examination papers. She said she plans to be married next summer to Ewell Mauldin, a dormitory supervisor at the deaf and blind school, and then "I plan to teach right on."

Lowdown For Moms—Junior Plays The Status Game Too

On today's baseball card market, Roger Maris is a 50-to-1 offering. The smallfry or not-so-smallfry who is lucky enough to have a card on the Yankee homerun king can just about name his price. And this is only one indication of the booming business of baseball cards.

The cards come in a package at any corner drug store, grocery store, dime store. With them come several pieces of bubble gum.

Usually the peewees could not care less about the gum and it winds up being peddled to the teen-age sister for about a cent for five sticks.

Several card companies are in business. The youngsters can specialize in oldtimers or try to keep up with current crop of major leaguers. Many do both.

Some rather set standards are in effect.

The New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle has a high trading value—if you happen to be a Yankee fan. Many other major league players will demand a 10-to-1 or better ratio on a trade.

The cards feature full color-in-action pictures of the player involved. It gives his height, weight, date of birth, home town, whether he bats or throws left or right handed, a brief description of his professional baseball career, and his record for perhaps the last five or more years in games played, times at bat, runs, hits, two-base hits, triples, home runs, runs batted in and assists.

From the cards — and the pee-wee is nobody unless he has at least 500, and if he wants social recognition his collection should number 1,000 or more — has developed some unusual parlor games.

For those youngsters lucky enough to own a full set of cards, one full team in either the American or National Leagues can be pitted against each other. If the collection is a little shy, it becomes an all-star game with individual players from each team.

The game — in one of its forms — features the usual baseball diamond layout on the living room rug and the cards of the various players in their usual positions. A steel ball and a pencil or ruler constitute the ball and bat. There are complicated rules about whether a steeley hit by a pencil becomes an out, a home run, a base hit or a ball for extra bases.

It can be said with some certainty that most mothers don't care greatly for the new baseball card craze or its resultant parlor action.

How, for instance, do you get a baseball bat big enough to make Junior pick up the cards after the game and keep those cards filed away neatly beside the socks? (AP Newsfeatures)

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Aug. 14, the 226th day of the year with 139 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1900, about 2,000 U.S. Marines assisted in the capture of Peking, China, ending the Boxer Rebellion.

In 1929, the dirigible "Graf Zeppelin" started out from Germany on its round-the-world trip with 20 passengers.

In 1935, the Social Security Act establishing old-age benefits and unemployment insurance was passed by Congress.

In 1945, President Harry S. Truman announced that Japan had accepted the terms of unconditional surrender and hostilities of World War II had come to an end.

A thought for today: Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius said: "Receive wealth or prosperity without arrogance, and be ready to let it go."

South won the first trick with the ace of diamonds, drew trumps with the ace and queen, and then led the five of clubs from dummy. It all seemed normal, but South had already told too much of his story.

Since West had discarded a diamond on the second round of trumps, East knew that South had eight sure trump tricks. The ace of diamonds had already appeared, and the ace-king of hearts were in the dummy. It was therefore clear that South had eleven tricks outside of clubs.

East could lose nothing by putting up the king of clubs. South couldn't have the ace of clubs — or he'd have claimed his twelve tricks and gone on to the next hand.

WAITS HEART: East won with the king of clubs and led the king of diamonds to make South ruff. Then East sat back and waited for his heart trick. Eventually he got it.

South made his mistake when he drew the second round of trumps. After winning the first trick with the ace of diamonds he should lead a trump to dummy's ace and return the low club at once.

The difference is that East doesn't know that South has an eight-card trump suit. Unless East is a very thoughtful player, he will play a low club.

West will have to win with the ace of clubs, and South can later lead the queen of clubs through East to ruff out the king. Dummy's ten of clubs is then good for declarer's twelfth trick.

East played the king of clubs to prevent South from having this kind of ruffing play. Give East a medal for his fine play, but give South a black mark for revealing too much information to East.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner deals and bids one heart. The next player doubles (for take-out), and you hold:

♣ — A 8 6 2
♥ — 7 4
♦ — 9 7 6 4 3 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Don't run before you're hurt. A bid of two diamonds should show a far better suit than six headed by the nine-spot.

Denny, a 17-year-old June graduate of San Rafael High School, expects to receive an appointment to West Point itself after graduation from the prep school next June.

He is the son of Major and Mrs. Robert M. Denny, 400 Stone Dr. His father is on active duty with the Army at Ft. Baker.

The Denny family, which also includes twin 10-year-olds John and James, moved here in June 1960 from the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Robert, who joined the Army Reserve last December, was undergoing six months of active duty at Ft. Ord, Calif., when the appointment was made last week.

Cement Sitter —Putty, Putty

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Marcia Hudson of Des Moines was engaged the other day as a "sitter." When she arrived at her employer's home, it was explained that the entire family had to be away for a few hours.

She was given a lawn chair and asked to see that neighborhood kids didn't mar the newly-poured cement of the backyard patio.

Ruanda-Urundi: Another Tricky Task For Belgium

(Belgium is faced with another tricky task in the Ruanda-Urundi trust territories, the former central-African German colonies mandated to Belgium by the League of Nations after World War I. This is an informed report on the situation.)

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Preparations for the first legislative elections in the trusteeship territories of Ruanda-Urundi have been completed to the full satisfaction of the U.N. committee on the spot, it was learned here.

The elections in the Belgian-administered territories will be a major step on the road toward their independence which is scheduled to be granted next year. The exact date however has not been set.

The chaos which engulfed the Congo immediately after independence last year and the subsequent denouncements of Belgium in the United Nations have caused some fears in political circles here that Belgium might face another U.S. condemnation if things go wrong in the trusteeship territories.

The April 12, U.N. trusteeship committee resolution on Ruanda-Urundi caused considerable uneasiness in these circles.

The resolution stated the Belgian government was alone responsible for the administration of the trust territory and accountable to the United Nations. It stressed that it was Belgium's obligation and responsibility to ensure necessary conditions for the proper conduct of the national elections.

The resolution also criticized Belgium for the way provisional governments had been established in the two territories and contained instructions for broadening these governments, organizing the elections, and granting a full political amnesty.

In a radio address last week Belgian resident-general in Ruanda-Urundi, Jean-Paul Harroy announced that these instructions had been carried out. As in Ruanda however, no agreement had proved possible between the rival factions on an enlarged provisional government.

At the same time U.N. Ambassador Max Dorsinville, chairman of the U.N. committee for Ruanda-Urundi appealed to the populations to hold elections in calm and dignity.

In Urundi balloting will be according to symbols and in Ruanda according to colors.

Regularity of the elections will be controlled in the polling stations by 300 civil supervisors. Several U.N. observers also are already on the spot.

Recent reports from Ruanda-Urundi have made it clear the situation is still potentially explosive there. In Urundi the rivalries are more political, but in Ruanda the centuries-old antagonism between the majority Mahutu tribes and the minority Watutsi tribe exploded into large-scale killing, looting and arson less than two years ago.

How explosive the situation still is was clearly demonstrated by a report that reached here recently on bloody clashes between rival political factions in the Kitea region. The report said the fighting—in which 11 were killed and some 50 injured—was touched off by a false rumor about an assassination attempt on a Bahutu minister in the provisional government, who had suffered a slight concussion in a traffic accident.

Stock Market Signs Good For Business

NEW YORK (AP) — All the goodies that the stock market has been forecasting may yet be grasped. With the third quarter at the half-way point businessmen are taking heart from increasing signs that this fall is going to be a really good one—maybe as good as the stock market seems to think.

The economy isn't jumping. But it is a bit livelier than a few weeks back. The summer lull was just that—a time of taking it easy but not a setback.

The first signs of a fresh upturn include:

Slightly fatter steel orders and production and good prospects of still better weeks to come: an upturn in installment buying, that barometer of consumer confidence; firming prices in some goods, such as textiles; better sales of a major production indicator, paperboard; increased machine tool orders, a measure of business thinking; expansion of regular wage and salary payrolls; and higher personal income totals.

Yet to be felt, except in the stock market, is the impact of increased government orders. These are assured by the passage of a magnified defense bill, direct result of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threats about Berlin. Businessmen expect the new government spending to start in time to help industrial output late this year and to beef up production in the first half of 1962.

The administration is assuring business this increasedd eficit spending by the Treasury can be swung without either further inflation or higher taxes. The stock market has bet that either way—business pepped up enough to cancel the deficit through increased tax revenues, or inflation — will mean higher dollar earnings and therefore higher stock prices.

This doesn't mean that the late summer days aren't without their quota of problems. The auto industry offers two questions? Will wage negotiations now entering the down-to-cases phase trip up and end in a strike? If auto production gets going at a good clip this fall as expected, will consumers cooperate by taking a shine to the new models?

Unemployment — especially among the unskilled and young entrants into the ever expanding labor force—still resists most attempts to ease it.

Retail trade has been just so-so. It's about as good as last year, but not as large as the increase in personal incomes should have sparked.

But the recent rise in the total of installment debts leads retailers to hope that a real boom in on-the-cuff buying, such as has tagged along after every business recovery, is all set again.

Business plans for more capital spending could revive as production grows. Expansion has been held back by excess capacity in many industries. Some observers argue that this was given too much weight during the recession. The more cautious tended to treat overcapacity as of a long-term nature rather than a temporary one peculiar to the business cycle.

To sum up: In these last wearying days of summer the economy is showing the first signs of recovering its spring step. Assuming that war talk doesn't go beyond the sound and fury stage, the climate is right for a strong, even if unspectacular, forward march.

A Tired Juror Rests Her Case

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — The judge and the attorneys weren't the only ones who used lawbooks during a recent trial in the court of Judge Emmett J. Crouse.

One woman juror complained chairs in the jury box were so high her feet didn't reach the floor.

So the judge had three big thick legal books brought from his chambers for use as a foot rest.

The Blindness Was Artificial

MIDHURST, England (AP) — When a small oil-fired boiler exploded in front of him at nearby Trotton, 55-year-old George Ayling thought he had been blinded.

He blundered about in panic, stubbing his toes and bruising his shins.

"I could not see," he said later — "then it turned out it was only my glasses blackened by soot."

Marine Project Permits Sought

Permission for two marine projects in Marin County has been asked from the Army Corps of Engineers.

J. H. Reeves, Sausalito, has applied for a permit to dredge in Richardson Bay just below the bridge on U.S. Highway 101.

Earl C. Whitsell, Sacramento, has submitted plans for a new pier along with an existing pier and bulkhead about a quarter mile south of Marshall on Tomales Bay.

Col. John A. Morrison, district engineer in San Francisco, said interested parties may submit, in triplicate, any objections to the two projects before Sept. 8.

Army permits involve only public rights of navigation.

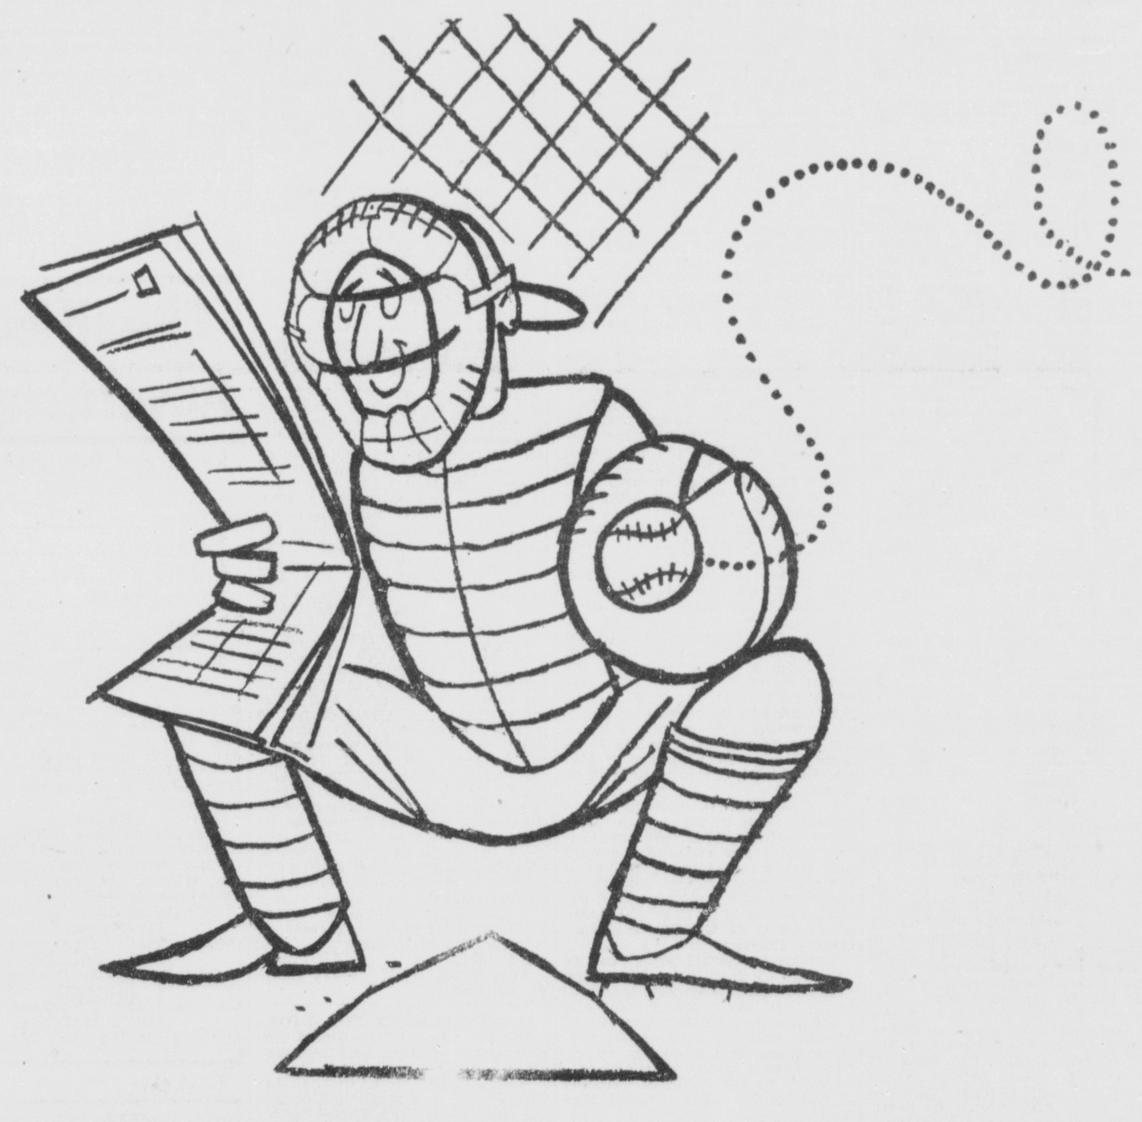

Everyone, It Seems, Wants To Be Judge

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Just about everyone wants to get into California's judgeship act. Or so it seems, considering the unabated flood of letters and wires which have just about overwhelmed Gov. Edmund G. Brown's staff.

The patronage petitions "governor, I'm a loyal Democrat, helped in your campaign, and . . . ", telegrams and letters of recommendations all ask Brown the same thing:

Appointment to one of the 71 judgeships made available through new seats created by the 1961 legislature or by normal vacancies.

Already, there are four file drawers jampacked with requests for judgeships in Los Angeles County alone.

Tiburon Club May Be Used For A Classroom

The west wing of the Tiburon Peninsula Club may become a temporary classroom for the Reed Union School District.

Directors of the club offered the room to the district last week on a rent-free basis until the new Del Mar School is ready in November.

In other action at the monthly meeting last week, the resignation of Bob Knapp from the board was accepted, club membership boundaries were extended and two new parking areas were planned.

The parking areas at the clubhouse will be created from earth that was excavated during construction of the new tennis courts and culverts.

Membership boundaries now include Enchanted Knolls, Sutton Manor and Mariner's Cove. The club's Teen Group will hold an invitational dance Aug. 23, it was announced.

Police Intend To Halt 'Go-Karts'

"Go-karts" shall not go today in the Sun Valley area, if San Rafael police have their way.

More than a dozen complaints have been received, police said, of the noisy vehicles "making quick passes" around the streets. When police are called, the karts are quickly hidden in garages.

One un-named kart driver was located and warned by police that he would be arrested for disturbing the peace, and his vehicle confiscated, if the practice continued.

THE MILL CREEK
"THE MOST MAGNIFICENT ADDRESS IN MARIN"
My family is raised. We wish to sell our home with its upkeep and loss of interest and move into an apt. But it must be very large and gorgeous. A 1-bedroom (900 sq. ft.) or 2 bedrm., 2 bath (1200 sq. ft.) We want Country-Park-like setting with tall beautiful redwood trees, a live creek meandering through the property. Must be level, and walking distance to the quaint downtown shopping of Mill Valley . . . OH DEAR! We have just wished ourselves into the MILL CREEK. You will too if you see this unbelievable setting. New Judge Advocate At Presidio

Col. Howard S. Levie has been named staff judge advocate of Sixth Army headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco and has established his home in Strawberry.

Levie was formerly legal adviser at Headquarters, United States European Command in Paris.

He entered the Army in 1942 as an enlisted man, was commissioned in the Coast Artillery Corps early in 1943, and served in New Guinea and with Army Forces Western Pacific during World War II. After the war he entered the Regular Army and was commissioned in the Judge Advocate General Corps.

He has been with the War Department General Staff, the office of the judge advocate general, and with General Headquarters, Far East, and the United Nations Command in Tokyo. He served a year as staff officer on the UN Command armistice delegation at Munsan-ni, Korea.

After Korea service, Levie became chief of the international affairs division of the Office of the Judge Advocate General, then was staff judge advocate for the Southern European Task Force at Verona, Italy, until his Paris assignment.

He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff School, and of Colgate University and the University of Virginia Law School. He entered legal practice with a New York firm before joining the Army.

He and his wife, Jeanette, have established their home at 426 Strawberry Drive, on Harbor Point. His father, Charles S. Ruby, makes his home with them.

Ike, Rockefeller Meet For Talks

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York meets with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today for their second conference in a month.

As at their July 11 meeting, politics presumably was discussed at the meeting between the two Republicans in Eisenhower's Gettysburg College office.

Working Mother—Too, Has Her Problems—Show Due On Them

A couple of weeks ago the little woman sat the man of the house down in front of the television set and commanded him to watch a "Purex Special" documentary about the housewife and her frustrations.

It seems the housewife is suffering from something called "the disenchantment syndrome," and that she is on the verge of rebelling against the monotony and drudgery of her duties as homemaker and mother.

It might have occurred to the husband then that one solution to the problem would be to have the little woman find herself a job outside the home. If it did, then he is going to be disabused of that idea tomorrow night. It seems that "the working mother" also has her problems, and another of the documentaries in the "Purex Special" series is going to point this out loud and clear.

Leora Dana will play the lead role in a drama entitled "The Working Mother" on KPIX at 10 o'clock. Dr. Margaret Mead, the anthropologist, will appear as guest expert to discuss the situation. She finds "a great deal of confusion, evasion and unhappiness for a great majority of the households in which the wife works. Within the traditional setting, working for married women means doing two jobs, both of which her separate employers think of as full-time. And doing two jobs is hard on one's nerves, one's spouse, one's children and one's friends . . ."

IF YOU haven't got anything else to do tonight, you can sit back in the easy chair in your living room and watch, via television, a kidney transplant. You have to admit it isn't something you see every day. In fact, even in the hospital it is a rarity.

KRON will show one of these unusual and dramatic operations as another in its series of medical documentaries at 7:30 this evening.

The surgery is, in fact, two operations — the removal of the healthy kidney from one body, and the grafting of it into another body.

What made possible the operations video-taped by KRON for showing tonight was the fact that the donor and the patient were identical twins. This close relationship eliminated the "immune reaction" —the body's defense against and rejection of foreign tissue — which has for centuries thwarted doctors in their attempts to save lives by transplanting human organs. Science is just beginning to conquer this problem.

IT TAKES the talent of a couple of veteran thespians like Paul Muni and Charles Laughton to make us realize how really lightweight are most of our younger film and television actors of today.

Both these grand old-timers will be seen on TV tomorrow. Muni will be featured in a rebroadcast of the "Playhouse 90" drama, "Last Clear Chance," on KPIX at 9:30 p.m. He plays an attorney who defends his lawyer-son against disbarment charges.

Laughton will be seen a half hour earlier on Channel 5 on "Comedy Spotlight" in "A New York Knight." It, too, is a repeat, and it is about a derelict in the big city who befriends an aging horse.

Both are recommended if you missed them the first time around.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Song Star Giselle MacKenzie Purchases Drake's Bay Property

Hollywood song star Giselle McKenzie has purchased a one-half acre homesite in the Drake's Bay Estates, according to Benjamin Bonelli, attorney for the new western Marin beachside community. The records won't show it in that name, of course, but simply as a sale to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuttleworth. Presumably they will build a beach home for occasional weekend visits, he said.

Bonelli, who is so often spokesman for the much publicized development he's been labeled erroneously as its developer, said 85 lots have now been sold in the first 150-acre subdivision begun two years ago and only beach sites are now available. The second subdivision has not been laid out.

"All roads in the first section are completely paved," he added, "and we consider them to be on a par with existing county roads. Drake's Bay Estates occupy approximately 1,000 acres. There are still more than 50,000 acres left for a national park. If the 1,000 acres have to go, too, the investors will be paid the fair market value and should get their money back. If not, they've got a real bargain.

"Site buyers are beginning to build. Two homes have been started and another will follow soon. We are gradually turning this area into an excellent locale for recreational living and we are proud to have the lovely Giselle and her husband join our growing list of property owners."

PRICES of key items in Montgomery Ward's new 1961 fall and winter general catalog are down an average of 2 per cent from last year, observes R. C. Batty, manager of Ward's retail store in Corte Madera.

The new catalog, the largest the firm has ever printed, is being sent to Marin customers and to about six million more throughout the nation. It is also available for reference at Ward's catalog order desk.

For the first time in a general catalog, Ward offers all items on a no-down-payment basis to all customers. The new policy was put into effect last April.

And here's something of local interest. The Kingston Trio which has been acquiring property like mad in Marin County is pictured in the new book modeling coordinated sport shirts, slacks, belts and jackets in the ivy style for which the recording group is famous. (Fans: No cut-outs, please.)

DAVID BENSON who recently announced plans for a $310,000 Mill Valley shopping center has taken over the real estate office of Emil Pohli at 8 Corte Madera Avenue in that city. He specializes in syndications made up of small investors in which he himself participates.

Other Benson projects include a 10-unit apartment house under construction in Fairfax, apartment buildings in the East Bay and a shopping center in San Jose. He's also hunting down 13 suitable locations in California for the 3-R school system and has ventures in Seattle, Phoenix and Hawaii.

Maebelle Seltzer who handled the insurance business for Pohli is remaining in the same office.

The word pinto probably came from the Spanish adjective pintado, meaning painted or mottled. At least one pinto horse landed in America with the Cortes expedition.
